DEATHS.

At Cherry Lodge, near Killarney, on Friday last, John J. Russell, Esq. M.D. Surgeon of H.M.'s 36th Regt. But a few weeks since we had to record the death of his beloved wife.

On the 27th ult. at her residence, 13, Harrington-street, Dublin, Frances Hunt, eldest daughter of the late Thomas Hunt, Esq. of Lower Gardiner-street, of a few hours' illness, of cholera, and sister to Robert Hunt, Esq. of this City.

In Ennis, on Saturday last, of cholera, Kitty, the beloved wife of John D'Arcy, Esq. late 88th Regiment. As a Christian wife and parent her conduct was exemplary. She was beloved by her family and respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintance. She died firmly trusting in the merits and mediation alone of a glorified Redeemer.

At Ballingarry, on last Saturday, of fever, aged 24 years, Daniel, eldest son of the late Mr. William M'Carthy. The premature demise of this young gentleman strikingly illustrates the uncertainty of this world and how incomprehensible are the ways of Divine Providence. An uncompromising patriot, steadfast, disinterested friend—a model of social, moral, and virtuous qualities—of pure unostentatious charity—pious and edifying demeanour—naturally gifted with superior talent—has been snatched away from the enjoyment of domestic happiness—from a fond mother and a numerous circle of friends and relatives: while thousands are left to pine away under privations, sickness, and infirmity.

In Ennis, of disease of the heart, Mr. William Corry, grocer.

At Ballinasloe, aged 24 years, James Colahan, Esq. M.D.

At Ballydaniel, in this County, to the sad bereavement of his wife and children, and the sincere regret of all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, Mr. David Vaughan, a man who maintained a character proverbial for honor and integrity in his numerous dealings.
