The Belfast Anacreontic Society will have the extra-ordinary advantage of Miss Hayes' vocal abilities at their opening concert. Our talented countrywoman has received an invitation from Mrs. Knox, lady of the Bishop of Down, to make Holywood House her residence. A memoir of Miss Hayes, with a likeness of the fair and talented songstress, will appear in the next University Magazine.

(The following appeared in part of last impression.)
The remains of private John Canavan, of Capt. Wynne's company 68th, were this day interred with military honors by his comrades at St. Munchin's church.

At the City Police Court this day, Thomas Carmody John Dundon, Daniel Mulcahy, and John Hayes, detected by Mr. Sheil in the act of stripping lead off the roof of Abbey court lace factory, were remanded; also Patrick Madigan, charged with stealing plate from the residence of Mrs. Cannon, Newenham-street; John O'Neill was fined 5s. for being drunk and disorderly in the streets; Richard Barry, stealing waaring apparel from Mary Mannix, informations ordered.

Thursday morning, Sub Constable Mason arrested a noted house robber named Richard Barry, having a quantity of wearing apparel in his possession, which he admitted having stolen on the previous night. The offender is committed for trial, and the Constable has restored the property to the owner, who is a poor widow residing in Catherine-street.

Mr. James Hogan, a respectable farmer, was killed near Patrick's-well last night by the upset of a car with a runaway horse, who took head on the top of the cutaway hill at this side of Patrick's-well, and after running over a mile towards the latter place fell with the car uppermost, killing Hogan, who was underneath, and badly injuring a man named Dundon and another named Carmody. James Hogan held a large farm at Adamswood, in this county, from P. A. Shannon, Esq. of Corbally, and was a very industrious man. He has left a wife and family to deplore his loss.
