

theatre Royal, Dublin, assembled at Shades Hotel, to partake of an entertainment to that gentleman previous to his departure for America with our distinguished countryman, "Irish Nightingale," Miss Catherine Barry, who was seated in the chair by George Jas. Baldwin, Esq., and the vice-chair by Sir Richard Baker. The lecturer lectured on Phrenology in Cork on Monday evening, and attracted a numerous auditory.

At Cork, as two sailors belonging to the ship "The Rover," bound for America, were placing a top on its berth, it slipped from its keeping, and fell on the deck, inflicting such serious injuries on a sailor, that he died the same evening. Several accidents occurred in Galway, last week. A woman going to Mass on Sunday, across the river, missed her footing and was killed. A woman was also accidentally killed in the street, and a child was found dead at the same place.

The sheriff and grand jury of the county of Down, met on Monday evening, and had before them the Judges and their registrars; the sheriff, Sir James Bainbrigg and his aides-de-camp, Sir James Macdonnell, Sir Thomas Staples, Q.C., the Attorney-General, the Crown Solicitor, the county clerk, and several other gentlemen to dinner, in the room of the grand jury room, in the new town, on Monday evening. The Lord Chief Justice, on Saturday night, has issued instructions to their officials to enforce the 'Prentice Boys of Derry, for an alleged violation of the Anti-Processions Act.

The names of the voters registered for Tyrone under the new Act have been published. There are, in that county, 5,685; and for the borough of Dun Russell was burned in effigy at Tralee on Monday night in presence of a mob of 2000 persons. Two men were tried and acquitted of the charge of being arisings out of the burning of a house there.

James Danaher, convicted at Clonmel on Monday, was sentenced to 15 years transportation.

The first of the new fairs was held in Tralee on Monday, and the attendance and the supply of stock far exceeded expectations. The sales were very brisk, and the proceeds obtained, very few lots being left over.

Mr. Danaher, the Ventriloquist is in Dublin, and is expected to resume his old favourite entertainment.

The monster Pig, weighing 10 cwt. intended for the exhibition of London, is exhibiting in Tralee.

The Chronicle says, "We are in a position to make arrangements are in progress for the establishment of a great fair, similar to that held in London, to be held in Limerick, and to be called the 'Limerick Fair.' This will be of vast importance to the agricultural interests, and greatly enhance the value of the property in Munster."

Esq., Wheatfield, Rich-hill, Co. Armagh, to Margaret, second daughter of the late T. K. Kidd, Esq., merchant, of this city.

DEATHS.

On Sunday evening, at her residence, Lock-quay, deeply regretted by her family and friends, Mrs. Mary O'Connell.
At her lodgings, Old George's-street, Cork, Anne, eldest daughter of the late John Good, Esq. of Crossmahon.
At Loughrea, Stephen Madden, Esq. in his 68th year.
At South Mall, Cork, John, son of the late Jas. Jones, Esq.
At Saugborough, co. Sligo, John Powell, Esq. aged 75.
At Abboyleix, Mrs. Grace Fitzpatrick, aged 72.
At Yonghal, Ruth Eliza, only daughter of Mr. Edward N. Campbell, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel.
At Rich View, Bray, Sarah, relict of Henry V. Jackson, Esq.
In Dublin, Jane, wife of J. W. R. Jenkins, Esq. R.N. Chief Officer of Coast Guards at Larne.
At Lower Charlemont-street, Mrs. Martha Joanna J. Grant.
At Lower Leeson-street, Caroline, wife of Lucius H. Dearling, Esq.
At Morehampton Terrace, the infant son of Fras. Edward James, Esq.
At Charlemont-mall, Elizabeth, relict of Edward S. Wallis, Esq. of the Ordnance Office.
At Wellington-quay, Mrs. Rose Carpenter, late of Carlow, and relict of Mr. John Carpenter, aged 48 years.
At Lower Camden-street, Margaret, wife of John W. Cullen.
At Abboylars, county Longford, Miss Mary Forster.
At Tubberkreene, near Dungloe, aged 75 years, Lieut. Clarke, of the Donegal Militia.
At his residence, Ballaghmore, James Quintin, Esq. ruling elder in the congregation of the Scots Church at Enniskillen.
At Belfast, Mary Pierrepont, wife of Captain Edward Holland, R.N. and eldest daughter of Captain Robert Warren.
At Madeira, Anna, wife of the Hon. Captain de Blaquier, late Adjutant County Limerick Militia.
At his residence, Bentinck-street, London, G. Warburton, Esq. late Major E. I. Company's Service, and son of the late Bishop of Cloyne.
At the Benedictine Convent, near Worcester, Mary Angela, only child of the late C. R. O'Keefe, Esq. of Cork, one of the Assistant Judges in Jamaica.
In London, Flora, daughter of Lord and Lady Macdonald.
At Wellington House, county of Durham, Major-General Robert William Mills.
At Woolwich, Jane, relict of the late Lieut.-Col. Sir John Dyer, K.C.B. of the Royal Artillery.
At Balliveolaw, Argyleshire, Lieut.-Col. Patrick Macdougall, late of the 48th Regiment.
Aged 73, Miss Mary Cholmley, of Oxford Terrace, London, and late of Leamington, second daughter of the late Henry Cholmley, Esq. of Whitby Abbey, and Howsham, Yorkshire.
Joseph Williamson, Esq. of Bubbenthal, Warwickshire.
At Gamston, the Rev. Joshua Brooke, Rector of that place, aged 90.
At Whitehill House, Glasgow, Alexander Nicoll, Esq. solicitor, Edinburgh.
At his residence, Gretna Hall, Mr. Linton, well known as "The Bishop of Gretna."
At Port Glasgow, Alexander Brown, Esq.
At Chopwell Lodge, county of Durham, George Savage James, Esq.
At her residence, Cambridge-street, Connaught-square, Maria, relict of Captain John Thompson, R.N.
At Portsmouth, Lieut.-Colonel Michael Arnett, formerly of the Royal Marines.
At Kensington, Mary, relict of Captain Smith, 24th Regt. Suddenly, the Rev. Edward John Ash, Rector of Brisley, and Vicar of Gately, county of Norfolk, aged 53.
At Woodborough Rectory, Wilts, Frances, wife of the Rev. William Thomas Wyde.
At Chichester, in his 86th year, Commander George Reynolds, R.N.
At her residence in William-st., on Wednesday evening last, to the deep regret of her family and friends, Anne, wife of Mr. Edward Keane, grocer. She was an exceedingly fond and affectionate parent, and her loss is deeply felt.
At Cloughjordan, aged 109 years, Mr. James Armitage.
At her residence, near Torquay, the Viscountess Nowark, second daughter of Lord Hatherton.