LIMERICK—In copying the fast Ulsterman of the 12th inst. it will be glad to learn that the paper is advancing in the estimation of the public. Much gratification has been metime past by the singing of Mary's Catholic Church, by Mrs. Malvin, of Limerick, called the Primo. This lady, who possesses a splendor and compass, has, in the hands of her services gratuitously at the several successive Sundays. She performed for the last time, previous for Dublin." About two years distinguished herself as a Primo in concerts in London, under an appellation "the curse of Swift" being her advancement.
