

...determined
...long deferred,
...son and put on
...Marseilles.—
...do will oblite-
...and under the
...the instigation of
...a woman were
...nt, which they
...their lives, for the
...ing the English
...the latest, though
...the spirit which
...ced the martyrs
...ceeded direct to
...d, and the genial

...the Univers, ultra
...the demand of
...mination.
...has revived the
...Haynau affair in
...Austria.
...r, whom Barclay
...ondon, and who
...was the illegiti-
...Hesse Cassel.
...Orleans, which
...several Negroes
...enis, and Henry
...a steamer, from
...Adelaide, South
...e ship and the
...d luggage boat,
...them.

...t peril. In con-
...Earl of Claren-
...his Lordship
...ately dispatched
...ity, at the resi-
...ham, the leading
...in town. The
...l of Aberdeen,
...ndon, Lord Pal-
...the Agamemnon,
...l at once from
...at Malta, whose
...f the Vengeance,
...ander, has been
...General Prince
...s, that the Czar
...act of land of
...unt Ararat, and
...of the Montene-
...decessor, Count
...appears to have
...Turkish Govern-
...ayed.

...that Ireland and
...ournet in a duel
...months impri-

...ustralia, is three
...day in the clubs,
...ing had been
...Forester and
...the select com-
...quire into the
...ts unauthorised
...the matter was
...vention.
...oms at Falmouth
...t.

...York assizes of
...Wakefield.
...ster assizes of
...more, a farmer
...y has got £300
...ther for slander.

...ING MEETING.
...h, with 25 added,
...Wynne) ... 1
... 2
... 3
... 4
... 5
... 6
... 7
... 8
... 9
... 10

Mr John D Fitzgerald, M.P. on the motion of the late Attorney General for papers and records connected with the Six-mile-bridge election affray, the coroner's inquest, and indictment at Ennis assizes, to the surprise of the country—volunteered a defence of the whole proceedings—from the violent assault on the voters and military escort to the preposterous verdict and abortive prosecution of the law officers. So bold a stroke as this the legitimate representative of the Irish Government, Solicitor General Keogh, would not venture to make, though returned for Athlone. The notoriety was reserved for a new aspirant to judicial fame and senatorial distinction. Mr Fitzgerald played well the part of advocate for his clients. To be sure, it was in character with his profession, and though we concede much to the known subtle skill of a special pleader, whose profit is "to make the worse appear the better reason," yet when a great public principle is involved, truth and justice will demand a fair trial before competent tribunal, to satisfy the feelings of the nation, whilst vindicating the wrongs of the aggrieved. In this latter class do we include the officers and soldiers of the 31st unfortunately implicated at Sixmile Bridge. The military authorities of the garrison of Limerick not only granted but courted the fullest inquiry into all the circumstances; and no officers on the Irish staff could offer more facilities for the most searching investigation than Major General Fleming, C.B. and Lieut. Col. Douglas, District Adjutant General. The officers and men attended the inquest from day to day, at the summons of the Coroner. There was no reluctance, for they had nothing to retract or withhold, because acting in the observance of strict duty and under magisterial requisition. The soldiers' persons and broken accoutrements bespoke the violent usage they had suffered; but all these important considerations were industriously put aside by the very disinterested advocate for "freedom of election," who laboured by most disingenuous artifice to present the military as aggressors without cause, and subsequently avoiding the consequences of responsibility—while facts are palpably otherwise—that outrageous provocation was imposed on them—of several rank and file were beat down, and some trampled on, before a shot was fired—and that subsequently the staff and regimental officers proffered every facility by oral and personal examination to ascertain who were the persons really in fault. The returns ordered by Parliament at the instance of Mr Napier will demonstrate "the truth, nothing but the truth," so far as the military are concerned, and their complete vindication, though tardy, must, we feel assured, be the inevitable result of any proceedings, be they civil or criminal.

The Houses of Lords and Commons adjourned on Friday night until Monday the 4th of April.

Lord John Russell said, when the House of Commons was adjourning, I wish to make a statement on the subject, which has excited considerable interest in this country, and indeed throughout Christendom. A telegraphic message has been received to the effect that the Grand Duke of Tuscany has liberated the Medici, and that they have embarked at Leghorn and left Tuscany for Marseilles. (cheers.)

The Hon Spring Rice, one of the Commissioners of Customs, arrived on Friday last at Plymouth on an official visit. He was engaged the whole of Saturday and Monday in going thro' the several departments, examining the books, &c.

Lord Donoughmore has arrived at Liverpool to see a batch of his late Tipperary tenants comfortably provided on ship board, on voyage to America.

John Bagwell, Esq. DL, and Wm. Davis, Esq. of the Clonmel board of guardians, accompanied by Mr Lynch, PLI, visited the Limerick workhouse this day, to ascertain if the Steam apparatus used in the workhouse, would be applicable to the new Building in Clonmel union.

Dr Gray, who contested Monaghan at the last election without success on Tenant right principle, has received an address and piece of plate from his numerous political friends in that county, where 1410 electors voted for him.

The Lord Bishop and Archdeacon Keatinge had an interview yesterday with the Commissioners of St Michael, and pointed out the great utility of introducing a permissive clause into the Town improvement bill, to enable the Corporation to raise a fund, not to exceed the amount granted by Government, for support of a School of Design in Limerick.

Lady Maginnis arrived in Upper Mallow street on Monday, from Dublin, having nearly recovered from the effects of her late accident, which she met with some weeks since.

A very heavy Australian mail has arrived by the Sydney, at Plymouth, and part of its rich burden is

INQUEST AT BARRINGTON'S HOSPITAL,
On Monday Dr Murphy, Coroner, held an inquest at Barrington's Hospital, on the body of Roger Sheehy corn broker, of Cornwallis st, who died at his lodgings on Patrick's day. It being known that his life was insured with "The English and Cambrian Company" by Messrs Patrick Ryan, of William st. and Jeremiah McCarthy, of Mary st., in sums of £500, Mr John Gleeson, solicitor for the insurance company, very properly resolved to ascertain the true cause of death, rumour having attributed it to poison, administered in whiskey. There were seven medical gentlemen in attendance.

Counsellor Synan appeared on behalf of next of kin of deceased to oppose a post mortem examination of the body, unless evidence was given to warrant the jury in requiring same.

Mr John Gleeson (with whom was Mr Ellard) said it was exceedingly strange to object to a post mortem examination—it was even suspicious in this case where the policy holders were known to be the parties for whom Mr Synan appeared.

Mr Synan—I am instructed on behalf of the next of kin of deceased, and no matter whether poor or rich we all know the feelings of friends ought not to be unnecessarily outraged by a post-mortem examination.

Dr Joseph K Carey said he saw the body of deceased soon after death, and a finer or more healthy looking corpse he never beheld (laughter). The man died of natural causes, induced by atmospheric influence.

Dr Gelston—Did you attend him shortly before death, Doctor?

Dr Carey—I prescribed for him.

Mr Gleeson—Did you examine his lungs? I prescribed for him.

Coroner—The jury will be guided by the opinion of a medical man as to whether it is necessary to have a post mortem examination.

Mr Synan said he differed in opinion with the Coroner, that the jury ought to be guided by the opinion of a medical man, as to whether a post mortem examination would be made. Since the recent trial of Kirwan in Dublin, it had been laid down that a jury ought not to be guided by medical testimony.

Coroner—And on behalf of the medical profession I say here that the members of the bar never disgraced themselves more than in conducting his defence.

Dr Gelston—Not having made a post mortem examination of the body of Mrs Kirwan at first, led to all that took place upon the trial of her husband. It was long subsequent to the occurrence that the body was exhumed; and in this instance the same difficulty might arise if there is not a post mortem examination.

The Coroner said he would proceed to swear the jury, and the following were empanelled:—Patrick Verlin, Martin Carroll, Daniel Norman, John O'Shaughnessy, Denis Ryan, Andrew O'Mara, James Fife, James Quin, Michael Bowles, John Bourke, John Scarr, Joseph F Alexander.

The Jury having viewed the body returned to the board room, and the Coroner read the report furnished by the Police "That a man named Rodger Sheehy died suddenly at Cornwallis st. on the evening of Patrick's Day—his life was insured, and it is said that he came by his death by unfair means."

Mr Synan—I now call upon the Police to announce who it was that said the death of Sheehy was caused by unfair means?

Head Constable Daly said he did not think he was bound to do so, but would be guided by the Coroner.

Mr Synan—It is only fair to produce that person as a witness.

Coroner—I will not require the Head Constable to do so.

Mr Synan—Then I again object to any post mortem examination.

After some observations by the legal professional gentlemen, the Jury agreed to hear evidence as to death before they would decide whether or not a post mortem examination was necessary.

Alice Shields, sworn—I knew the deceased; I observed him ill for 6 weeks before his death; I often boiled milk and rice for him during the latter period; he lived for 12 months in my house; I remarked him very ill with bowel complaint before his death; (witness described appearances and results); I used to prepare his victuals; I gave him no medicine, nor was he attended by a medical man to my knowledge; neither was he attended by a clergyman; I heard a countryman who came into the house remark to him that he was very bad; he said he was, that he had inward piles; the countryman said he would cure it with an herb that would be up in March; he said he had cured another case of the same kind with it; this occurred four or five days ago; I don't know whether the deceased took medicine, nor if the countryman brought the herb; he was described up to the time

The head quarter division of the 55th Dep. Major O'Leary, arrived here yesterday from and this day proceeded for Nenagh where they Capt Budd's company 14th, which rejoins Saturday. The 55th detach to Roscrea and Po

A troop of the 7th Dragoon Guards will rep 3d in this garrison; the latter proceeding to L

Private John Paine, 14th Regt. (who has a a sergeant in the Corps) died on Sunday, and terred yesterday with military honours, the band of the Regt. playing the funeral dirge.

Two privates of the 14th, Thomas Carth Patrick O'Brien, were yesterday committed to gaol, for six months, by sentence of court for drunkenness and insubordination.

This afternoon a fire broke out in the distri vost prison of the new barracks. The Artiller was promptly on the spot, and the fire was s

General Marquis Londonderry is quite reco In the absence of Lt. Col. Arthur and Major Capt. Carlyon commands the 7th Dragoon G

Caher.

The head quarters of the 46th Regt. arrive at Linnen hall barracks, Dublin, from Belfast; from Enniskillen arrived at Richmond b yesterday; the 90th Light Infantry mov Royal barracks, and the 52d Light Infantry to barracks, Dublin.

Capt Mackenzie, 72d, in command of the D Clare Castle, is to give final approval to recrui ing during the absence of Major Sharp on leav

The 68th Depot arrived at Newry from B terday, replacing the 12th.

The 57th "Die Hardis" Depot, under Major worth, now occupy Tralee barracks. Four Ke cers, Lt Col Spring, Lieuts Cemerford, Raym Ragur, served together in the 57th previo peace of 1815.

The exchange between the Depots 40th a from Buttevant to Waterford, has been d manded in consequence of measles amongst diers' children.

Private John Lenehan, 62d, Athlone, is 168 days' imprisonment, for threatening lang serjeant Thomas Murphy.

Major and Brevet Lieut-Col. Charles Dean of the 1st Battalion 1st Royal Regiment, Portsmouth on Friday last. He entered the Sept. 1804, served the campaign of 1809 aga Rajah of Lahore; at the siege of Hattra in the Maharrata and Pindaree campaigns of 18 1818; and in the Burmese war in 1825-26.

Captain and Brevet Lieut-Col. Daveny obti regimental Majority, and Lieut. Vansitart the company.

Major General Murray, from 7th Dragoon is to be Colonel of 14th Dragoons, vice K deceased. Major General Gabriel, to be Colou 7th Dragoon Guards, vice Murray.

Colour Sergeant Henry Stokes, 52d, was pr with a silver goblet by his late Captain (Cum on leaving the regiment.

The right wing of the 88th is at Gosport, at Weymouth.

The Commander of the Forces has desired Regiments or detachments moving en route s tend divine service on Sabbath day.

Six Ensigns were gazetted on Friday, by p Two companies of the 27th to Sligo and Bal non on the 29th and 30th, relieve respective panies of the 41st and 91st.

Major Neill has taken command of the 40th at Buttevant.

The Duke of Wellington invited the m mitted officers of the 1st Rifle Brigade guarded the remains of his illustrious fa Walmer, to visit Apsley House, where a nuf them went over the mansion. The Duke defra expenses to and from London.

Private O'Donnell, 7th Dragoon Guards, D sentenced to six weeks imprisonment for offe sale a gold watch, and refusing to say how he g

Private Blackburne, 90th charged with pawning four watches of his comrades, is seat

56 days at hard labor in Richmond bridewell.

Private Winterberry, 17th, Dublin, for drun and striking a serjeant, is sentenced to 2 mo prisonment with hard labour.

Private Coyle, 38th, at Portsmouth, has bee ported for 7 years, for drunkenness, and str serjeant.

Private Charles Hart, 12th Lancers, M barracks, for drunkenness, abusive language, a ing serjeant Chas Johnson, 94th, is sente imprisonment, with hard labour, for o received an address and piece of plate from his numerous political friends in that county, where 1410 electors voted for him.

The Lord Bishop and Archbishop Keatinge had an interview yesterday with the Commissioners of St Michael, and pointed out the great utility of introducing a permissive clause into the Town Improvement Bill, to enable the Corporation to raise a fund, not to exceed the amount granted by Government, for support of a School of Design in Limerick.

Lady Maginnis arrived in Upper Mallow street on Monday, from Dublin, having nearly recovered from the effects of her late accident, which she met with some weeks since.

A very heavy Australian mail has arrived by the Sydney, at Plymouth, and part of its rich burden is now being distributed through the suburbs of Ireland. Not less than 148 registered letters were received at the Limerick Post office on Sunday last, all conveying remittances or money orders from emigrants to their friends at home. One who had been in the employ of J. N. Russell & Sons, and went out last year, sent £75 for his father, Pat Lawson. Another man transmitted £60. The minor sums by other letters are from Australia through the 'Family Colonisation Society,' to take out herself and brother.

Over a thousand money letters from America have passed through the general and district post offices of this city and county, and counties of Clare and Tipperary, the last few days, and cashed at the various banks, to friends in Ireland, to enable them to emigrate this spring.

During the last week 17 paupers, (chiefly females,) in the Limerick Union Workhouse, received remittances of from £10 to £12 each, from relatives and friends, not more than 12 months in America, to enable them to emigrate forthwith.

Three young gentlemen from this locality, who went to seek their fortune at Australia, have returned, completely discomfited with bad news from the diggings.

A cold north-east wind, and severe frost indicate the complexion of this month. Rude health can be had with impunity the parching dry atmosphere reigns out of doors, but to the aged and invalid inclement season is most distressing. One of the most protracted and protracted winters on record has necessarily retarded all agricultural operations, and we cannot be content to expect a very late, though we may have a good and sufficient harvest in all green and all crops, excepting wheat.

The office of Registrar to Chief Justice Monahan is vacant by the death of his brother—£800 a year.

An excellent and learned controversial sermon by Rev Thomas Westropp, Rector of Ardcanon, on a Tuesday night, at Michael's Church, was attended by a mercurial and attentive congregation. It was past when they left.

As soon as the Cathedral is completed there will be choral services each day in the week.

The Rev E T Nash, rector of Macroom, died Sunday evening. The bequest is value 4000 a year, and in the gift of the Lord Bishop of Cork.

The schoolhouse, in connexion with the Church of the Holy Trinity, is about to be erected at Castlehill, towards which there is a sum of £150, under the administration of the Rev Mr Benson, the rector. The schoolhouse, Kilkee, a course of controversial lectures during Lent have been preached by the Rev V B Chester, on the points of difference between the Protestant and Roman Catholic Churches.

On Sunday the Roman Catholic Chapels of this city were filled with Palm branches, which the Priests distributed to crowds of eager postulants, in memory of Christ's entry to Jerusalem on the eve of his death.

Awards of £60 was collected after the eloquent funeral sermon of the Rev Matthew O'Connor, on Monday last, at the Dominican chapel, for the recent benefactors in the edifice.

Several have arrived from Rome, appointing the Rev J Fallon, PP of Toulea, Ennistymon, to the archbishopric of Kilmaedugh and Kilfenora, vacant by the death of the Rt Rev Dr Ffrench.

The fair noblesse at Rome recently congregated at the grand reception given at the Colonna palæe, the most distinguished in the courtly circle, diamonds and beauty, though past the bloom of youth, was the Princess Santa Croce, formerly a lady, of the south of Ireland.

Rev Michael Mulkerns, RCC, Ballyhaunis, is promoted by Archbishop MacHale to the archbishopric of Kilmanin, vacant by the appointment of Rev MacManus to Clifden.

Rev Dr English, of the English College at Rome, has been appointed Superior of the house founded by the Pope for late Protestant ministers, and preparing for the priesthood in the Church of Rome.

Rev Dr Cahill attended the St Patrick national conference at Glasgow, on Thursday last, at the Pontine Conference of St. Vincent De Paul, and gratefully acknowledged £1 from anonymous, and £10 from Mr. Ellard, Esq.

morem examination was necessary. Alice Shields, sworn—I knew the deceased; I observed him ill for 6 weeks before his death; I often boiled milk and rice for him during the latter period; he lived for 12 months in my house; I remarked him very ill with bowel complaint before his death; (prepare described appearances and results); I used to prepare his victuals; I gave him no medicine, nor was he attended by a medical man to my knowledge; neither was he attended by a clergyman; I heard a countryman who came into the house remark to him that he was very bad; he said he was, that he had inward piles; the countryman said he would cure it with an herb that would be up in March; he said he had cured another man in this town with it; this occurred four or five days ago; I don't know whether deceased took medicine, nor if the countryman brought the herb; bad as described, up to the time of his death; never saw him have a sick stomach; he used to go out in the morning between six and seven o'clock, and come in the evening; I don't know what he was, but his son, who lived with him, said he was a corn broker.

To Mr Gleeson—He never told me he consulted a Doctor; he was not a strong man up to the period of his death; he was sitting by the fire, and he turned the chair from the fire place, and wiped his face with a handkerchief; he got very pale; I went up stairs with two bowls of tea to a countryman, and when I came down, I was told he had gone into the kitchen where there was a bed; I then proceeded to the room, and saw him lying on the bed; I went over, called him, shook him by the hands, and found he was dead; he had a slight cough. After Sheehy died Dr. Joseph K. Carey came to the house and saw him; I don't know who brought him; there was a Policeman with him; the Doctor did not visit him before death (laughter); he said he was a clean looking corpse, and said he died from natural causes; it was three weeks before his death I gave him the boiled milk; I did not think he was dying when I was going up stairs; I don't know who provided the coffin; it came from James Hanan's; my husband went down to Mr Lee's and told him of it; I did not see Mr Jerry McCarthy at my house after his death; neither did I see Mr William Sheehy, or Mr. Patrick Ryan there; I saw the deceased ten minutes before he died.

A discussion then took place on the propriety of holding a post mortem examination of the body, Mr Synan opposing and Messrs. Gleeson and Ellard requiring it. The Coroner finally decided on examining Dr Parker on the subject.

Dr. Parker then stated his opinion that no respectable Physician could feel justified in swearing as to the cause of death without a minute examination, there being some suspicious circumstances connected with the case; at same time he carefully and prudently refrained from any further statement pending the post mortem.

Doctors Gelston and Parker were in attendance on part of the English and Cambrian Insurance company.

The Coroner deputed Dr Thomas Kane to make the post mortem examination, and the inquest was adjourned to next morning.

YESTERDAY—The coroner and jury re-assembled at ten o'clock. Dr Kane was the only witness examined. He deposed that he made an accurate post mortem examination of the body of Roger Sheehy, and was of opinion he died of chronic dysentery, induced by natural causes, and not by poison—there was no appearance of inward piles; I did not analyse the stomach.

The jury returned a verdict that Roger Sheehy's death was caused by chronic dysentery, produced by natural causes.

The magistrates, clergy, gentry and traders of Tipperary have presented a farewell address to Alexander Louis McCarthy, Esq. on his promotion to the Managership of the Mallow branch of the National Bank, which—with that gentleman's acknowledgement—appear in our advertising columns.

At the City police court yesterday George Cuppers of Southampton, apprentice on board the Edward Brothers, was sentenced to two months imprisonment at hard labor for deserting the ship at Clare Castle, and stealing £5 from the cabin, the property of the master. James Sarsfield, larceny of shoes, like rule; Mary Collins, deserting her child, remanded. Patrick Sullivan, stealing bread, and Wm. Hurly, vagrancy, 14 days imprisonment each.

There were 18 pickpockets committed to gaol from the City Police Court this day.

During the three sessions that have elapsed since the opening of Galway Queen's college 130, of which 67 were Roman Catholics, 48 Protestants, 15 Presbyterians, students have joined it.

At Galway assizes the local Gas company obtained a verdict for £778, with 15 months time for payment against the Town Commissioners. On the trial of James Walsh for the murder of Bartholemew Flaherty at Lemboy the jury were locked up and ultimately discharged without a verdict.

The Cork Grand Jury have approved of the bill for the extension of the Brandon railway to Dromaneen with a branch to Clonahilly, and to guarantee the interest on £5000.

sentenced to six weeks imprisonment for offering for sale a gold watch, and refusing to say how he got it.

Private Blackburne, 90th charged with illegally pawning four watches of his comrades, is sentenced to 56 days at hard labor in Richmond Bridewell.

Private Winterberry, 17th, Dublin, for drunkenness and striking a sergeant, is sentenced to 2 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

Private Coyle, 38th, at Portsmouth, has been transported for 7 years, for drunkenness, and striking a sergeant.

Private Charles Hart, 12th Lancers, Maidstone barracks, for drunkenness, abusive language, and striking sergeant Chas. Johnson, 94th, is sentenced to imprisonment, with hard labour, for one year.

Captain Cofton, 21st; Ensign Egan, 45th; Lieut. Moncrieffe, 78th; Captain Scott, 92nd; Lieut. Allen, 1st West; and Capt. Rushout, Ceylon Rifles, sold out of the service on Friday.

The Quartermaster of the 11th Hussars is appointed Cornet in the 3rd Dragoon Guards.

Lieut Hunt has resigned the Adjutancy of the 3rd Dragoon Guards, and the junior Cornet, Gilleland, takes it.

The destination of the 36th is changed from the West Indies without being relieved, to remain at Gibraltar instead of proceeding to Canada.

Serjeant Major King, sergeants Byrnes and O'Neill, and Privates Byrnes and Woolf, 3d Light Dragoons, received the Punjab medal last week at Maidstone.

There are 177 cadets at the Royal Military College Sandhurst, of which 107 are sons of civilians, 49 sons of officers in the army, and 1 orphan of an officer in the navy. The amount paid to the establishment last year was £17,566 by the gentleman cadets, and £164 by the officers of the senior department. Last year the total cost of the establishment was £16,486.

The Commander in Chief in India has been pleased to promote Lt Col Henry R Milner, 94th to be Colonel by Brevet, in the East Indies, 27th Oct, 1852.

Lieut. the Hon. Lucius Cary, 27th, is to proceed to India as Aide de Camp to his father, Viscount Falkland, Governor of Bombay.

Col. Sir H M Wheeler, K C B, will be appointed to command the Lahore division, in consequence of Brigadier General Yates being unable to avail himself of his nomination. Col. Wheeler was on the eve of proceeding home.

The horses of the 3d Light Dragoons have been sent on to Lahore, after the officers and men had embarked at Kurrachee for England last January.

Lieut. Peel, 53d, is appointed Paymaster, in succession to Paymaster Hall, retired.

Paymaster Evans, 78th, is about to retire on half-pay, and Quartermaster Webster succeeds him.

Major General Sir Robert Nickle, who was on board the steam ship Australian (which broke down) for passage to that colony to command the troops, will disembark with his staff in the Argo steamer.

Side-arm sheds are to be constructed at Camden and Carlisle Forts. Pivots and racers are to be placed for mounting guns on the Fortress at Spike Island.

Lieut Vials, 95th, is appointed to the Leeds recruiting station, vice Young, 80th, promoted to a company.

The 7th Hussars have transferred their recruiting party from Aberdeen, for want of success, to Belfast. The recruiting party of the 28th at Mullingar is ordered to join at Newcastle upon Tyne, the Regt. being complete.

Capt McCarthy, RM, has arrived at Bath to recruit for the Royal Marines; Capt Welsh, RM, at Taunton and Capt Penrose, RM, at Birmingham on the same day. There are now 39 officers detached to recruit for the Marines.

Detachments of the 36th, 67th, and 69th will embark at Portsmouth on the 26th inst. on board Her Majesty's steam ship Megara, for the West Indies, to join their corps.

Capt. Horne has sailed to join the 12th Lancers at the Cape.

Ensign Gregg, 91st, has sailed for the Cape; also Lieut Rowles, Rifle Brigade.

The 73d and 74th have lost severely by desertion on the Cape frontier. Lt Col Cooper, 45th, has succeeded Col Boys, 45th, in the command at Natal.

We are persuaded that the authorities at the Horse Guards are in ignorance of the miserable condition of the military in Australia, who cannot possibly endure the deprivation of necessary food with any regard to discipline and physical efficiency, under recent circumstances in that colony.

At Melbourne the military are charged 2s a pint for milk!

The privates of the 99th at Hobart Town, Van Dieman's Land, are starving upon their short rations, 2lb. loaf between six, the local provision market having become exorbitantly high.

Desertions have taken place amongst the troops at Melbourne, and a reward is offered of 25l for the apprehension of each deserter. The 11th and 40th are stationed there.

There have been very elegant and commodious barracks (of iron) erected at Melbourne. We have seen a remarkably nice sketch of them drawn by an officer of the 11th stationed there, and sent to his friends.

Town, the
The Res
county Lo Carpenter
grand dau
At Holy
fant 36th
Huddleton
Cephalonia
George
of the late
At Bath daughter's
Capt. Po
Joseph Jos
Barry B.
Amelia Cor
park, Esq.
John A. S
Eleanor, da Edward
ter of the
At Stan widow of Loughbor
Henry H
Thomas Be
D. J. Leo Moysey, on Anderton
At Melbo
Surgeon, i
Capt. Mo
Lewis Gled
At Kandi daughter of the island, a

At Jersey
Matthew Lou Arthur in
This mo
Anna Maria
Presentation
Templeerry
At Borsias
eldest daugh daughter of county of Fl
At his resi
March 20
youngest son of Divinity in Benjamin S
At Kath, in Duby, aged 26
valuer of the
In Cork, E
county Tipper
At Harlow
of Coon, dioc
Cork.

At Adare; c
Splane, of th
gretted by his
The Rev P.
In Gort, on Mary, wife
Edmundsbury
At Dromala
At Grenville
At Clarence
late Thomas H
At Glenam, member of the William Tow
send, R.N. of S
Charlotte Wat
Surgeon, Water
Eliza, wife of Aged 91 years
Frederick, se
Marine Terrac
At Carrick-on part of his life
educated to th
Education Soci
At Victoria Pl
Anthony Farrell
In Belfast, Joh
In London, ag
of Dree Hall, c
At Montagu-s
Francis Buchan
rance Company.
At Twickenham Presidency.

At New Steyne
late, and sister of
In Connaught-st
terton, Lincolnsh
ston, Yorkshire, a
At Montagu-pla
Barton, late 2d Li Anne, relief of George Phiffen, fo
At Deal, aged 7
served in the Pen
Royal Waggon Tr
At Weymouth,
Capel, R.N.

At Invergonn
County Lichtenan
The Rev. Thoma
Restford, Notts.
Catherine, wife
Archdeacon of No
At Monymusk, t
At Scone, the H
Mr. Robert Clari
good, in his 76th ye
At Oldfield-lane
for, Esq. popularly At Hornsey, near Nicholas, Esq.
At Dane Court,
Boyd Rice, Esq.
At Truro, John C
Lieut. John Cate Hope.

At Barbours
At Capetown
At Melbourne
by a fall from his
At his seat, the
Colonel the Hon
On her way