

Pecherine, (who inculcated the way of the Cross,) 11,000 communicants were admitted, and 28 converts received. The Rev Fathers commenced a mission at Clapham this day.

The Sisters of the Convent of the Good Shepherd beg to acknowledge the following sums, which were omitted in their return of thanks:—1*l.* from William Monsell, Esq. M.P.; 1*l.* from James Barry, Esq. per Dr. Geary; 1*l.* from Michael Quin, Esq. per Robert M'Mahon, Esq.; and 1*l.* from Peter O'Brien, Esq. per Rev. M. O'Connor, P.P.; also £1 from James Hogan, Esq.

James Shine, Esq. Secretary of the Ballyneety Patriotic Fund, this day transmitted a bank order of £55 to the Hon. Secretaries of the Commission in London, being net proceeds of the amount subscribed in the above district.

Thomas Fitt, Esq. lectured yesterday evening before the Literary Society, on Meteorology, and will continue the subject next Tuesday evening.

Yesterday morning Patrick Donoghue, of upper Denmark-street, where his wife kept a huxters shop, himself being employed by Alderman Quinlivan, as groom, was found dead at the foot of the staircase in his own house. It appears he had been drunk the night previous, and while in a fit of ill temper habitual to many who indulge too freely in intoxicating liquors, turned his wife and servant girl out of the house, locking himself in. They had to take refuge for the night in a neighbours house, and on forcing open the door next morning he was found a corpse? At the inquest held this day. verdict was found—"Died by the visitation of God."

A young lad, son of Mr. Thomas O'Halloran, farmer at Sbanaboly, North Liberty, suffered amputation of the arm at the County Infirmary yesterday. He was raising a gun to fire at curlew when the charge entered his arm and shattered the limb.

Mr. Meagher, M.P. has resigned the Mastership of Holy Ghost hospital at Waterford.

Robert Power, ornamental stucco plasterer, was found dead on Tuesday at Clonmel. Verdict—"Died from exhaustion and exposure to cold."

Messrs. Burke, Huband, Phelan, Lynch, and Barron, poor-law inspectors, and Mr. Dillon, medical inspector, have been furnished with notice, that their services as inspectors cease on and after the 31st of March next, and the question of a retiring allowance, if any, depends on the Lords of the Treasury. Government propose dispensing with other officials in the Irish poor-law department; the secretary and assistant secretary, one auditor, and one first-class clerk.