MACH

Sackville,

SIR—I have much pleasure in stating that the Wincing Mac Crosbie does its work excellently of Corn. It not only cleans and separates the light from the heavy, but it puts out all small Seeds by the sieves, so that the corn to be cleaned here is all sure, from the experience of the machine, that its price will be more than made up in the difference of time compared with any other machine in this country.

I shall be happy to receive orders from any of my friends who may be so good as to write to You

Mr. Daniel O'Connor,
