The Bedford Light Infantry have received orders to move from Galway to Dublin, by rail, on the 12th inst.

The whole of the Militia of Great Britain will be reduced gradually, as well as a considerable reduction in the Royal Marine Light Infantry.

It is expected that if the Militia are forthwith to be disbanded, Government will liberally come forward, and reimburse the officers, who have necessarily incurred considerable expense.

The 5th Lancashire militia arrived in Dublin yesterday, and were replaced at Clonmel by the 69th Depot and Carlow Rifles.

THE CRIMEAN INQUIRY.—We this day devote a considerable portion of our space to the important proceedings of this investigation, the necessity which gave rise to it having been so long subject of notoriety and discussion throughout the kingdom, arising out of the report of Sir John M'Neill. Our army who suffered so severely in the Crimea, are particularly concerned in the result, and the details published will be read with interest. Up to the present the Commissioners have been occupied exclusively with the case of Lord Lucan, who has conducted his defence with great spirit, and perfect coolness. The Commissioners will not give their decision upon Lord Lucan's case till all the others have been heard. The Earl of Cardigan's will be the next taken up.

The Earl of Kenmare has presented the Rev. George W. Maasy, the esteemed worthy Vicar of Bruree, to the valuable living of Knockany, in the diocese of Emly, void by the lamented death of Rev. J. O'Grady. The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Massy from Bruree will be long regretted by the poor, whose many wants were attended to with benevolence and kindness by the worthy Vicar and his humane lady, who is cousin to the late Countess Kenmare.

The Rev. W. N. Willis thankfully acknowledges £1. a thank-offering for Protestant Orphans.

Rev. Joseph Gabbett thankfully acknowledges for Protestant Orphan Hall—Lady Macnamara, £2; Captain and Mrs. Tuthill, £2; Joseph Gabbett, Esq. Dublin, £2; Mrs. Williams Evans, £1; James Levers Esq. £1; Matthew R. Gabbett, Esq. £1; Dawson Westropp, Esq. £1.

The funeral of the Rev. John De Courcy O'Grady, the lamented Incumbent of Knockany, testified the attachment of the tenantry of the extensive property of the O'Grady family in the district of Bruff, towards the deceased Rev. gentleman. They assembled in large numbers from Kilballyowen, Ballisoola, Herbertstown, Kilcullane, and Raganins, to pay the last sad tribute of respect to his remains; and the coffin was borne to the grave upon the shoulders of respectable farmers, by whom he is regretted, while the poor bewail the loss of a charitable and kind-hearted benefactor.

WESLEYAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The attention of the christian public is directed in our advertising columns to the Annual Sermon to be preached on to-morrow at the Wesley Chapel, Georg's street, on behalf of the Wesleyan Missionary Society, by the Rev. Wm. Barton of Bradford, who will be assisted on Monday evening by the Rev. S. W. Christopher of Manchester, and other Ministers and friends on the occasion of the public meeting, to be held in the same place, in reference also to the great Missionary cause—our worthy Mayor presiding.

The claims of the Wesleyan Missions are so well known that it is almost superfluous to dwell upon them, scattered as they are over every part of the world and blessed as they have been by the Lord Himself.
