DEATHS.

On the 22d inst. at his residence, Monroe, county Tipperary, to the deep sorrow of his family, and regretted by a numerous circle of friends, Samuel Dickson Power, Esq. J. P., aged 53.
 At Castlebar, after a long and protracted illness, Frances, the beloved wife of Charles Malley, Esq. The comparatively premature death of this truly estimable lady is a source of deep affliction to a fond and affectionate husband—to her bereaved children, and a numerous circle of admiring friends and relations, with whom we sincerely and cordially sympathise. To enumerate or recal the many virtues which distinguished the subject of this obituary would be, indeed, a vain task. In social life her gay, cheerful, and unaffected manners were truly attractive; whilst in her domestic relations, as a wife, a parent, and a friend, she won the admiration and esteem of all who had been favoured with her acquaintance. To the poor and afflicted she had always been a kind consoler and a liberal almoner. Having been blessed with abundance, and having the confidence of charitable societies during the alarming times of distress that we have experienced some years back, we are now, that this excellent lady has passed away to another and, we hope, a better world, proud to have it in our power to bear our faithful testimony to the unbounded charity, without distinction of creed or party, which she had so zealously exercised in those days of tribulation. We again beg to tender our most sincere sympathies to her bereaved husband and children and her sorrowing friends, and to express our unfeigned regret that the melancholy duty devolves upon us this day to pay this humble tribute to the memory of one so generally and so justly regretted.
 On the 21st inst., aged 86 years, John Samuel Tavernor Bayles, Esq., eldest son of the late Sexton Bayles, Esq. Strand House, Limerick, for many years Port Surveyor of this city.
 At Whitworth-place, Drumecondra, on Wednesday, aged 32 years, John Scott, Esq. of HM's Customs, son to the former much esteemed Master of the Limerick Workhouse. He was kind, amiable, and affectionate, and in social life deservedly esteemed for his exemplary conduct. His remains, which arrived in Limerick by railway, were this morning removed to Caheroonish for interment, followed by a numerous cavalcade of sorrowing friends.
 In Patrick-street, Limerick, on Wednesday night, after a long illness, Mr. Denis Hayes, much regretted by his family and friends.
 Of consumption, at St Leonard's-on-Sea, Hastings, where he had been ordered for the benefit of his health, Mr. William Lawson Kennedy, formerly of this city.
 In Old Clare-street, Mr. Thomas Sweeney, cooper.
 In Killarney, aged 84, Johanna, relict of C. M'Carthy, Esq. of Cork.
 In Borrisokane, Mr. Thomas Bermingham.
 In Cork, Ellen, wife of Henry Reed, Esq. of that city.

 In Lower Gardiner-street, William Lambe, Esq. only son of Arthur Lambe, Esq. Comptroller of Customs.
 At Bengal-terrace, Finglas-road, Edith, relict of Randal Cooke, late of the Bank of Ireland.
 In Lower Leeson-street, Ellen, daughter and last survivor of the children of the late Francis Cruise, Belgard Castle, co. Dublin.
 At the Nursery, Baal's-bridge, Mr. D. Livingston.
 At Monkstown, Sibella, widow of the late John Colhoun, Esq. barrister-at-law.
 At Rathgar, Mr. John Carroll.
 At Newtownlimavady, Lesley Alexander, Esq. late of the 11th Hussars.
 Grace, wife of Mr. William Sweeney, Golden-lane.
 At the Monastery, Mount St. Joseph, Clondalkin, Mr. James Madden.
 At Bengal terrace, Finglas-road, aged 89, Frances, relict of Joseph Sheppard, Esq. late of Spring-park, co Tipperary.
 At Kingstown, John M. Colgan, Esq.
 On the 13th inst. at Lowestoft, Suffolk, Mr. Daniel B. Riordan, (late of Askeaton), Tide Surveyor in HM Customs, deeply and deservedly regretted by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and six children unprovided for.
 Major General James Campbell, late of the 51st Regt. Light Infantry.
 At Walhampton house, Hants, the Rev. Sir George Burrard, Bart.
 At Stoke near Rochester, Kent, the Rev. James Pearson, vicar, aged 64.
 At Chesham-street, William Evans, Esq. of Twynersb, Chertsey, late Sheriff of London and Middlesex.
 At Ilfracombe, Devon, Sir James Meek, Kt., GB.
 At Portman-square, Emily Isabella, daughter of Spencer Perceval, Esq.
 At Hereford-square, Old Brompton, Catherine Jane, wife of Capt. H. Wilson
