Veterinary Establishment
LIVERY STABLES AND MONTHLY HORSE
AUCTION MART.

MR. H. O'S. KEYES, Veterinary Surgeon, begs to inform Noblemen, Gentlemen, and the Public, in general, that he will carry on his profession as Veterinary Surgeon in the above Establishment, where he pledges himself to give his undivided attention to business intrusted to his care. In the Veterinary Department, he has made such arrangements, for the comfort and safety of Horses, as he is sure, will fail to give universal satisfaction, and to insure the Horse that healthy state of air passages so conducive to his health, he has fitted up his Forges, on the most and most improved principle, for which he has engaged the ablest Smiths at much cost. Knowing as he does the evils arising from bad shoeing, he assures parties, intrusting him with so important an organ, as the foot of the Horse, that he will give undivided attention to that part of his profession, and he will have all Horses shod under his own immediate superintendence.
H. O'S. KEYES, V.S.
P.S.—In the above Establishment, there will be a Waiting Room, for the use of parties coming from the country, requiring a change of dress, and an Extensive Carriage stand. Mr. H. O'S. KEYES will carry on the Monthly Horse Auctions on the 2nd Saturday of each month with the assistance of Michael Hartigan.
