 On Sunday, Arthur Edward, only surviving son of Mr. T. Kearse, aged 2 years and 11 months.
 At his residence, William-street, on Sunday morning, after three weeks painful suffering, of bronchitis, which he bore with the most Christian patience and resignation, Mr. Patrick D. Bourke, of Rutland-street, and William-street, leaving a wife and young family to deplore their irreparable loss. Endeared to them by the strongest of human ties, enhanced by the possession of these many virtues which mark the true Christian and the honest man, few but will accord their sympathy to this mourning family under their sad bereavement. As a man of business Mr. Bourke was upright in his dealings, persevering in the path of honorable industry—ever assiduous and attentive, he conciliated the good opinion of all. He was a pious and devoted Catholic. In 1850 he became member of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul—was its treasurer, and always took an active part in its proceedings, and a sincere interest in its success. The roofless garret and the damp cellar of the poor and unhappy were not unknown to him; unassuming and unnoticed did he wish to do the good work, and the hand of charity and the words of hope and consolation were ever at the sufferer's call. His remains were yesterday morning conveyed to their last resting place, at the new cemetery, attended by a most respectable funeral procession.
