

CASE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Thomas Costelloe, Esq., Coroner, held an adjourned inquest on Monday, in Barrington's Hospital, on the body of Thomas Leahy corn-broker, whose death we announced in our last.

Samuel Rennie, Michael Skeahan, Wm. Browne, and Thady Minogue were examined, and deposed that deceased and another corn-broker named Kirwan were quarrelling near the market; both were very violent, and repeatedly kicked each other; the deceased received several kicks in the lower part of the belly from Kirwan.

Dr. Thomas Carey sworn—Is a member of the Royal College of Surgeons; was called to attend deceased about 12 o'clock on the day of the quarrel; heard him complain of great pain in the lower part of the belly particularly at the right side; there were no marks of violence on his person; deceased said he received five or six kicks from a man with whom he had a fight; visited him again that evening, and finding him in a very dangerous state, desired to have him removed to Barrington's Hospital, where he died next day; assisted Dr. Bourke in making the post mortem examination on the following Monday; on dissecting there was a quantity of blood extravasated on the right side of the abdomen; the intestines and peritoneum were very much inflamed; he died from inflammation of his bowels which he thought was caused by violence.

Dr. Bourke sworn—I am a member of the Royal College of Surgeons and Resident Medical Officer at Barrington's Hospital; the deceased Thomas Leahy was brought to hospital at 11 o'clock on the night of Saturday, the 11th of July; he stated that some time previously he had been repeatedly kicked in the lower part of the abdomen by a man with whom he had an altercation; when admitted, he was in a state of collapse and of great pain, particularly at the right side of the abdomen; there were no external marks of injury, but there was a large unreduced hernia on the left side under which he stated he had laboured for years, but which he always succeeded in putting back until after the present injuries; I returned the hernia but he continued to sink, and died at eight next morning; I made a post mortem examination of the body, assisted by Dr. Carey; there was no external mark of injury, but on removing the integuments, a quantity of blood was found extravasated on the right side of the abdomen, and on opening which a quantity of serum was found effused, and the intestines and peritoneum intensely inflamed especially beneath where extravasated blood was found; death was caused by inflammation of the bowels and peritoneum which, in my opinion, was the result of violence.

The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against Kirwan, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued.

THE MARRIAGE LAWS.—At the Cork Police Court, at three o'clock, on Friday, Mr. Flanagan, relieving

The Nenagh Grand Jury will be sworn for fiscal business to-morrow, and on Saturday at 4 o'clock Baron Greene and Judge Keough will arrive from Kilkenny, and open the commissions, the latter presiding in the Crown Court, and the former in the Record Court. The business in both is light. Sir John Carden is to be foreman of the Grand Jury.

The shop of Mr. Costelloe, at Broadford, was robbed on Sunday, by a burglar who had the audacity to remain in the house until he attired himself with a portion of the clothes of Costelloe.

The New Constabulary Act at present before the House of Commons allocates the charge for the following force to be paid out of the Consolidated Fund—County Limerick 387; City Limerick 80; and County Clare 400.

The extensive agency of Mr. Smith Bardy, in the County Cork is vacant by the death of Mr. Reeves.

Captain W. Stackpoole, of Ballyolly, has contributed £50 to the new R. C. Chapel of Ennis. When a vacancy occurs he will be the first candidate for the parliamentary representation of that town.

The temperance bands are prohibited playing through Cork during the hours of Divine service on Sundays.

At Shrule, every house in the village was illuminated on hearing that Mr. G. H. Moore was turned out of Mayo.

LIMERICK AND FOYNS RAILWAY COMPANY.—Traffic for week ending Saturday, 18th July, 1857—Passengers, Parcels, &c. £101 7s 10½d.; Goods and Cattle, £32 5s 1d. Total, £133 12s 11½d. Corresponding 8 days last year, £82 7s 11½d.

WATERFORD AND LIMERICK RAILWAY COMPANY.—Traffic for week ending Saturday, 18th July, 1857. Passengers, Parcels, &c. £692 8s 11d.; Goods and Cattle, £403 4s 8d. Total, £1095 13s. Corresponding week last year, £1259 10s 7½d.

A ponderous flower pot fell from a window in Denmark-street yesterday, and was near destroying a passer by. It is shameful to permit such nuisances.

Mr. Thos. Reynolds, Marshal of Dublin, has been inspecting the pawn offices in Limerick, amounting in number to thirty, some few years ago there was but one pawnbroker's establishment and twenty nine tan pits, now there are only two tan pits.

We have continuous rain since yesterday morning with very little sunshine. The cutting down of meadows is temporarily discontinued.

The wheat and other crops are advancing to ripeness.

The fairs of Buaratty on Monday and Newport on yesterday were badly supplied with stock; sheep went off at good prices; good stores fetched 85s.

It is stated that the Queen will not receive at Court any lady wearing crinoline! Which will the ladies sacrifice—pride or vanity.

Mr. G. H. Moore has issued his address to the electors of Galway. He says—"A committee of the