DEATHS.

March 4th, at the Deanery, Waterford, Louisa Maria, the beloved wife of the Very Rev. Edward N. Houre, Dean of Waterford, and daughter of Lieut-Colonel O'Donoghue, of St.
 Heliers, Jersey.

On yesterday evening, at an advanced age, at his residence, Thomas-street, LICHS. Slattery, late of the 27th Regiment of Infantry—a gentleman of the highest personal honour, universally respected and esteemed, and loved by those who had the pleasure and privilege of his acquaintance. He had led a life of active professional service, and in every land he visited, and every position he held was regarded as a type of gentlemanly excellence and unswerving integrity. He was adorned by the generous qualities for which the Irish gentleman is distinguished, and shunning, as he ever did, associations with the unprincipled, his own society was courted by all to whom elevated feeling and extensive intelligence were, as they should ever be, constant attractions. He had perfect possession of his mental faculties to his last moments, and he died with the resignation that follows a life of rectitude, and is worthy of the Catholic Christian who relies on his faith, and has confidence in his Saviour. His remains will be removed for interment on Thursday morning, at seven o'clock, to the family burial place in the Emily churchyard, co Tip.
