At Melbourne, S. J. William Andrew Macintire, Esq. late of Ballyhannon, co. Donegal, to Rebe Letitia, daughter of the late Samuel Alleyne Rothwell, Esq. of Newtown, co. Meath.

DEATHS.

Yesterday, in Ennis, Ralph Westropp-Brereton, Esq. late of this city, and of Woodpark Queen's County—a gentleman deeply lamented by his family and friends. Mr. Brereton was highly esteemed for his affability of manner and kind disposition. He formerly filled the office of High Sheriff of this city.

Saturday morning, at Suaville, near this city, the residence of her mother, after a lingering and painful illness, Eliza, relict of the late William Massey Williams, Esq. and eldest daughter of the late Thomas Walcott, Esq. Hers was a blameless life, and she met the approach of death with firmness and resignation, in the sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection, through the merits of her Redeemer's love.

On Monday evening at his residence, in George's-street, of disease of the heart, William Wright, Esq. aged 35 years, proprietor of the military boot and shoe manufactory. He was an active man of business, and his early demise is much regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. His remains will be removed for interment at half-past seven o'clock tomorrow morning, in the family vault, Mount Jerome, Dublin.

On the 14th inst at Faustown, in this county, the residence of his brother, to the inexpressible grief of his family and numerous friends, Mr. Denis Lynch—a young gentleman of considerable promise, and who only a short time since completed his studies for the medical profession.

This morning, in William-street, of consumption, Mr. William Collopy of this city, draper, late of the establishment of Moore and Stillington—a young gentleman of mild disposition and agreeable manners.

In the convent, Roscrea, at the early age of 17 years, Kate, daughter of Mr. John Sheehy, Whitegate, co. Galway. The unexpected intelligence of the demise of this young lady has thrown a sad and lasting gloom over her affectionate family and a large circle of friends, to whom she was endeared by her many interesting and amiable qualities. Her life was one of exemplary piety and devotion in the service of her God. Her end was peace.

At Medina Villas, Brighton, Eliza, widow of the late William Lowe, Esq. Inner Temple, and Montagu-st, London.
