"With these facts before us, we do not at all dread giving every help in our power to the undertaking, although at present it belongs to Galway, where evidently it is only being nursed for our future advantages."

[If the Lever line be nursing at Galway, for Cork, as hinted at by our cotemporary, how much more advantageous would it prove to care it for the Shannon.—Ed., L.C.]

The Massy family in this county are placed in mourning by the death of the amiable daughter of John Bolton Massy, Esq.

On Sunday week last, the house of a small farmer named Patrick Kennelly, who lives at Ballynoe Hill, near Ballinacorney, in this County, was entered through the roof, while the family were at mass, with the exception of Kennelly himself, who had been at the next neighbours house; and after descending a height of 12 feet, went into an adjoining house, and broke open a table, in which was a drawer containing £41 in notes, and 1 sovereign in gold, with which the thief made his escape; though in no hurry it appears, as he took time to arrange the broken thatch, that it may avoid notice. This sum was the hard earning of this poor man, who through sheer industry realized it, to have to his family. No trace has been since heard of the burglar or burglars.

manifestly the interest of both parties should be proceeded with an allowance of ten shillings per cent, should be permitted to prevent an arrangement both and the public. If the line is offered, it ought be easy to adjust the interest for the earlier years, so terms at the final close to 30l. instead of a difference as the final price is 5l. per cent. as much as the Great Southern proposal interest equal to 2l. 5s on each Waterworks whole period between this and the transfer, the money price in disbursements pounds fifteen per share irrespective of interest is manifest that the judicious interference could settle the whole matter very to the advantage of both parties."

The differences between the Great Southern, Western, and Midland Great Western should be adjusted by arbitration. Mr. Justice Keble is appointed arbitrator by the latter company.

An arbitration has been opened between the Great Southern and Kingstown Railway Companies.

The extension of the line of railway from Dublin to Lucan, projected by the Dublin and Lucan Railway Company, will not take place.

Monthly subscription Balls are being given in the city.

LOLA MONTEZ—This popular and accomplished actress arrived in this, her native city, on Monday evening, before a crowded and fashionable audience, including numbers of the fair sex, to deliver a lecture on "Life and Manners in America." She was cordially greeted, and dealt with the subject in an instructive and amusing manner, under the patronage of several heads, viz:—The importance of emigration; the danger of republics; character of the Government of the States; the meaning of Union; the danger of Republican Aristocracy; and the influence of the United States. She well deserved the success accorded to her as an accomplished lecturer.

Madame Lola Montez proceeds to Belfast.

A splendid dejeuner was yesterday given at the residence of Captain and Lady George, in celebration of the arrival of several families in this city and surroundings.

All the robbers, four in number, who were concerned in the robbery at Mr. Bradshaw's, in Galway, have been apprehended, and the entire amount of the booty has been recovered. No. 2 committed to the gaol, and the other three acquitted the watchman on the charge of blame, as it appeared the robbers were not in the house until after they had withdrawn in the morning.

The Hon. Mrs. Osborne, when returning to the city, dropped a valuable gold watch, which was found by two countrymen, and returned it to the fair owner.

There will be no special commission of the peace parties arrested throughout the county, connected with secret societies. It is a general principle that a majority will be admitted to bail.
