DEATHS.

Yesterday morning, at his father's house, Broad-street, after a few hours' illness, of heart disease, Mr Bartholomew Scanlan, Reporter of the LIMERICK CHRONICLE. Seldom has it devolved upon a journalist to record with deeper regret the premature and almost sudden demise of a young gentleman whose loss is universally deplored. Gifted with the refined qualities of nature which ennoble and enhance the character of man, he was possessed of talent and ability of a high order, combined with an amiable and agreeable disposition, which endeared him to all with whom he associated. Of unassuming and affable manner, he won for himself the good will and esteem of all classes of his fellow-citizens, who deeply lament the death of one so sincerely regarded. During his connexion with this office his character was remarkable for zeal and ability in discharge of the duties of his position, and truly do we sympathise with his parents in their sad and unexpected bereavement.
