sions were held on Thursday. D. M. Maunsell, Esq., in the chair. Michael Quinn, M. R. Ryan, and J. C. Delmege, Esqrs. Patrick O'Dea was charged with appearing to be a dangerous lunatic. The complainant did not appear, and the defendant appearing to be of sound mind was discharged. The guardians of the poor of the Limerick union prosecuted John Fahy for deserting his wife, and refusing to support her, in consequence of which she became destitute, and was charged to the rate-payers of the union. The defendant was ordered to be imprisoned in the county gaol for three months, or take back his wife and support her. The said guardians of the poor also prosecuted Patrick and Cecilia Hennessy for deserting their child, it being also relieved in the workhouse. The defendants on taking back the child, and promising not to desert it again were discharged. James English prosecuted Mary Dillon for using violent and threatening language that she would do him some malicious injury. The defendant was discharged, with a caution not to offend again. There was no case of a serious nature brought before the court, which adjourned.

On Wednesday last, at the Petty Sessions of New-pallas, Timothy Carey and John Ryan were convicted, at the prosecution of the Limerick Board of Conservators, for damming and teaming a portion of the Bilboa river for the purpose of taking trout.

Mr. James Keogh, clothier, Patrick-street, has been declared by the Board of Superintendance of the City Gaol contractor for the supply of clothing for the officers and turnkeys of that public institution.

Several persons were severely injured in Clonmel on Wednesday, by the falling of a platform at a building belonging to Mr. Malcolmson.

Miss Gertrude Powys, daughter of the Bishop of Sodor and Man, was accidentally drowned on Monday, while bathing near her father's palace, Isle of Man.

THE SWELL-MOB.—Some idea may be formed of the harvest these worthies made by the visit of her Majesty, when in addition to the numberless empty pockets found by their owners after her Majesty's departure from Mallow, two vigilant police officers on the platform who had accurately timed her Majesty's arrival at the station—three minutes after, in their anxiety to wish to record to the second the moment of her departure—and wishing again to refer to their timepieces, found to their amazement and surprise that they were gone—a fact which created a degree of horror and disgust in the minds of the sapient owners, which was powerfully expressed in their countenances by the vacant bewilderment of the humiliating sense that they, too, had been “done,” by this feat of light-fingered dexterity, which reminds us of the days of Barrington.

SAVE YOUR RAGS—Something may surely be done by every family towards putting a stop to the enormous waste of paper material. The refuse, which has hitherto found its way to the dust heap, as though fit only for manure, should be preserved in bags kept for the purpose, and should be handed over to the rag merchant. If the remuneration received for it be small, the trouble is not great, and the benefit conferred upon the public will be considerable; besides the collateral advantages that must spring from fostering a habit of wise economy and thrift. Every family which values education, and wishes well to the cause of cheap literature, will render what help they may by scrupulously saving their rags, waste paper, and other paper material. Could not the rag merchant, or the paper manufacturer, on his part, organise some means of collection at stated periods? Contractors find it worth their while to fetch away our dust, and pay handsomely for it, employing a proper staff of servants will it be believed that our linen and cotton rags are less valuable?—Cassell's Illustrated Family Paper.
