E FIRE AT THE ESTABLISH-MESSRS. CANNOCK, WHITE,

ng the destruction of at least several worth of property, took place last nsive cabinet warerooms and workstreet, at the rere of, and connected ve establishment of Messrs. Cannock, of Henry-street. It was first disminutes before twelve o'clock, and er burst for with such terrific ider imminent the total destruction stablishment and the several adjacent extensive stores of Strahan and Co. upon the one side of Prince's-Jovernment Printing-office of Thom ype foundry of Messrs. Marr and yard of Mr. Alford, carpenter and louette's livery stables, were for a e menaced with destruction. The ment grew in strength, and it was a considerable time it would have exst-office. It was providential a red paratively early hour of the ht out at two or three o'clos the life and property would have been n the information which it was posin the confusion which necessarily ars the fire originated in one of the as belonging to the Mesers. Cannock is ascribed to the neglect of some harge of the concern. That it origi-, hour in the evening, after the closing ient, and the assistants and workmen their duties, there can be no doubt; e burst through the roof the entire r portion of the building in which is found to be one sheet of flame.

ly as nine o'clock in the evening, d by persons passing Henry-street s smouldering somewhere from the burning timber which was percep-remarked upon by several persons, ous fact that the circumstance did 1 amongst persons in care of extennts in the neighbourhood. No diswas made of it until the fire had ax of devastation, and furiously burst, es and workshops, of which there reing but the smoulding debris, were irs since, at a vast outlay of capital Cannock and White, when they ext trade, and rendered their establishtreet a credit to the remaining chaty. The building, or section of it, re regret to state, totally destroyed, y in the rere of the Henry-street, Its spacious lofts were fitted out as h yesterday evening were stored with de furniture, and workshops in which luantity of furniture was in process

A large number of workmen were Messrs. Cannock and White in this heir trade, which, we fear, has re-missioners having grounds for believing there was a charitable bequest contained in the will of September, and that not only was the will withheld from them, but that probate had been granted to it in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, they were perfectly justified in adopting the course they had taken. Finally, Dr. Ball proposed, on the part of the defendants, that the Commissioners should retire out of the case, that the defendants should be empowered to institute a suit, and that a citation should be served on the Attorney General to appear on the other side. Time was asked to consider the advisability of acceding to the proposal, and the case was accordingly adjourned until Friday.

Mr. Carrol gave notice that on this day fortnight he would move the presentation of a memorial to the Government, praying that measures be at once taken to give employment to the poor to save them from misery destitution, starvation, and death.

The Board then adjourned.

FUEL FUND.—We are happy, to state that our worthy Mayor, aided by our fellow-citizens, is actively engaged in raising a fund to procure fuel for dis-tribution amongst the poor during the ensuing winter and spring, and this benevolent act will tend in a large degree to ameliorate the condition of the poor. Elsewhere will be found the proceedings of the meeting held at the Town-hall on Monday, at which our chief magistrate presided, and which was attended by the leading gentry, magistrates and clergy of the city. The result is most gratifying, and the Mayor well deserves the sulogy bestowed by the Right Bev. Dr. Butler, Roman Catholic Bishop, when putting from the second chair the vote of thanks to his Worship. The Right Rev. Prelate said he had great pleasure in moving a vote of thanks fo our excellent Mayor, who was ever foremost in every good measure concerning the relief of the poor, and he felt resumd that he needed not to say a word to invite the warm response of the meeting to the resolution inoved by the High Sheriff, for all knew the exertions made by the Mayor, both prior and subsequent to his accession to that high office, which he had so honorably filled in behalf of the poor, on whose part he was always foremost in every good work, (hear, hear.) His Lordship then put the resolution, which being usanimously seconded was carried. The Mayor said—My Lerd, Mr. High Sheriff and Gentlemen. I cannot find lan-
