IE QUEEN'S VISIT TO IRELAND.—The Court Jour- ays:—It is expected that the Crown Princess of sia and her two children will make a prolonged to the Queen, even if the Crown Prince, on ac-of his official duties, should be compelled to re-to Prussia. The Princess Royal will remain with Queen and Prince Consort at Osborne for five or weeks, or till her Majesty takes her departure for and. The 19th or 20th of August is spoken of as ut the time when the Queen will start for the Curh, but the precise day has yet to be definitively ad.

The Prince of Wales will, in the course of the sumer, be the guest of the Marquis of Sligo, at Westport ruse.

The members of the Limerick Cricket Club will meet their ground near the Railway terminus at four Friday 12th inst.

Mr. Roundell Palmer, the new Solicitor-General, was returned without opposition as member for Richmond.

The trial of Holcroft, charged with frauds on the Commercial Bank, as the accomplice of Durden, the clerk, was concluded last evening at a late hour. The jury could not agree, and were discharged without giving a verdict. After being re-sworn, it was announced that the prosecution would offer no further evidence, and an acquittal was taken upon the other indictment against Holcroft.

Amongst the deaths announced there are the son of Lord Edward Howard, Mr. Davies, formerly secretary of the Religious Tract Society, and at Calcutta the only son of Dr. French, Dean of Westminster.

The Upper House has postponed its decision on "Essays and Reviews," on the ground that the Archbishop and Bishop of London might have to consider the works in their episcopal capacity.

The boat race between Clasper and Pocock, the rivals of the North and South of England came of yesterday, and was won by Clasper by four lengths, in rather over twenty-two minutes from starting. The rowers kept alongside each other for 200 yards, and the contest throughout was a very fine race.

The prize at Wimbledon for the public school was won yesterday by Amoyt, of Rugby, after an exciting contest. A prize of £20, offered on the spot by Earl Spencer to the best shot of the three schools, was won by Howard, for Eaton. Sergeant Dougan, of the 26th Lancashire, stands first at present for the Queen's prize of £250.

The steamer New York, which leaves Southampton to-day for New York, takes out £10,000 in specie from England, 80,000frs. from Bremen; and 6,000 francs from Havre.

The steamer Glasgow, which sailed to-day for New York from Liverpool, took out £189,761 in specie.

HOUSE OF LORDS—YESTERDAY.

The poor assessment (Scotland) bill was read a second time.

The Railway Company's Margate transfer (Scotland) bill was read a third time and passed.

Earl De Grey and Ripon moved the second reading of the E. India Council bill, which, after some discussion, was read a second time, and the house adjourned.

HOUSE OF COMMONS—YESTERDAY.

In reply to Mr. Berkeley, Sir G. C. Lewis said that he should propose in committee on the election law amendment bill the provision bringing Gloucester and Wakefield within the clause visiting corresponding boroughs with a five years' disfranchisement.

Mr. Crawford asked the President of the Board of Trade in what manner it is intended to deal with the large balance in hand and annual surplus which appears by the accounts of the mercantile marine funds.

Mr. M. Gibson stated it was proposed to apply the surplus to the reduction of the light dues, at a discount of 15 per cent. on coasting vessels and 12 per cent. on vessels going over sea.

Lord John Russell said he believed it was intended to proceed with the bankruptcy bill on Monday.

The Queen's-land Government bill passed through committee.

Sir G. C. Lewis obtained leave to bring in a bill to amend the act relating to the payment of the expenses of prosecutions.

The house went into committee on civil service estimates.

The vote for printing expenses gave rise to some discussion.

Lord Palmerston announced that the education bill would be discussed on Thursday.

The India civil service bill, and appropriation request vance a further sum of £2,500, the guaran-pledging themselves to assess such a rate as would pay off the debt due, and the present contemplated advance, and to support the union without loan for the ensuing twelve months.

Mr. Kelly was declared contractor for second quality flour at 37s. per sack.

An inquest was held on Saturday evening last, in Lower Shannon-street, by the City Coroner, John Gleeson, Esq., on the body of a Mrs. Mary Mountain, who died, as was reported, from consequences resulting from ill-treatment by her husband, who is a seaman on board the Jessie; but, on the evidence of Dr. Kavanagh, it was ascertained that the cause of death was the rupture of a blood vessel in connection with the heart, and the verdict of the jury, which was, "death from this cause," exonerated the husband.

The Mayor and Captain Gavin presided in the police court on yesterday morning. Michael Coghlan, a farmer, was found to be drunk and disorderly in the public street, and was arrested in his proceedings by a constable of police, who locked him up. He had £50 in his possession when placed in safe keeping. He was fined 5s. or 48 hours imprisonment. Eliza Phil-pot, who must be a descendant in a direct line from the celebrated Toby of that name, was found helplessly drunk in the street by Constable Caine, who introduced the old Bacchante to the Mayor, by whom she was fined 5s. or the alternative. An old fellow named Devany, who pretends to repair dislocated umbrellas, a bundle of which he carries under his left arm, whilst with his right he impudently and perseveringly solicits alms, was charged by Mr. M'Mahon, J.P., as a public nuisance and vagrant, but as that gentleman did not attend to prosecute, — Devany, Esq., U.D., was liberated with his diploma and a caution. William Doolan, one of the athlete in Boorn's circus, was remanded until Friday next on a charge of fracturing a man's jaw at the circus on Monday evening last. The injured man is lying dangerously ill in the City Infirmary, and was consequently unable to attend to prosecute.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN C. RYALL.—The most painful subject on which a journalist can be called upon to speak is that of—Death. Aye, death with its ten thousand cold, chilling, petrifying, horror-striking thoughts; and more especially when it comes with a suddenness and a rapidity like to the lightning flash, which, for the moment, is bright and vivid and the next is altogether invisible. Ah! none of us like to treat upon this subject; and yet it must be. It is, therefore, with feelings of regret that we announce to-day the death of one of our respected townsmen—Mr. John Charles Ryall—he whom to know was to love—he with whom to associate was to admire and esteem for his wisdom, discernment, and sound judgment. On Sunday week, he was in his wonted health, sojourning at Lahinch; but on the evening of that day, after a warm bath, he complained of illness, which became so intense that his friends were necessitated to remove him to his residence, Church-street, Ennis, on Friday. On Saturday night, his spirit took its flight to a happier and a better land, where sorrow is unknown, and where death's icy influence never enters within its jewelled, pearly gates. Well might the poet exclaim—

"To-day we bloom, to-morrow we die."

This sad, melancholy event has cast a gloom over our town; for, in the varied walks of life, Mr. Ryall was respected, by all those with whom he was acquainted. As a citizen of the world he was the soul of integrity; as a friend, he was sincere and kind, and as a man of business, he was straightforward and conscientious in his dealings.— For the long space of thirty-eight years he held the office of Petty Sessions Clerk, the duties of which he discharged with a tact and zeal which oft times elicited the marked approbation of our bench of magistrates; and his kind and obliging manner won for him golden opinions from all those whom he came in contact. No wonder, then, that we mourn his loss; but we would not rob him of those joys which now surround him in his glorified state. No; with Fenelon, when he saw the corpse of his departed master, we would say:—"If the turning of a straw would bring him back again, we would not be so selfish as to turn it." It is not for us to enter within the precincts of the bereaved household; but to his tender, loving wife and to his affectionate children, we offer our best sympathies, and we do hope that they shall be cheered in this affliction by the consolations of religion. We understand that his remains will be removed from his residence, this evening, at five o'clock.—Clare Journal.

A disgraceful conspiracy to defraud the Cork harbour board by a contractor, has been discovered, and is under investigation before the police magistrates of that city. Several parties are implicated.

The decision of one of the highest Legal Tribunals in the land has been obtained in the case of Lawrence and Mortimer commonly called the Great Leather case
