

which was put up to auction on the 10th of May was purchased by Mr. Galgey, for £310. All efforts were made to procure purchaser or some arrangement on the part of the seller, notices of eviction on the title were proceedings were instituted to get a decree immediately when this course of proceedings was frustrated, the threatening notices were served through the post upon Mr. Galgey and their wives, and for the prisoners now stand charged, and to ten years' penal servitude under the Vic.

Solicitor, having referred to the remands, called the turnkey of the city gaol, at which the prisoners were received in, he searched them in the presence of and found on the person of Morgan a paper writings, which were claimed by him, the elder, as his property, as having by himself. They were as follows:—
MY SIR—This goes to inform you, and to all the members of our society, collectively, are utterly disgusted at your malicious, dreadful and oppressive conduct of the 10th of April, to six orphan children and solate father. Cease, I tell you, with it unless you make reparation immediately, male and female, will in a body ask of you of the world to make an awful example, in addition to which I will implore and of the Twelve Apostles and all the saints every other member of our now disgraced name. Had you any respect for the lady, which is nearly related to your victim, you would not act the part of such a monster merchant had an execution for £80 certain person, a few days ago, and not to be acted with Leahy tyranny, he took £20 months' time for the balance. This I declare to God. I heard four gentlemen in the Bandon train a few days ago. I without giving you what you so richly deserve the 5th May, in the hope that the Lord your bloody unfeeling heart. Depend on it you will hear something to content you.

April.
are of the curse to be given in the month or Blessed Lady's month."
MY SIR—This goes to inform you that members of our society, collectively and indirely justly and excessively disgusted at your brutal, monstrous, malicious, tyrannical, unprovokedly oppressive conduct on the 10th of April, and depend on it, it is the last you will see, unless you speedily heal the distressing inflicted upon that poor broken-hearted, widower and his six children. Recollect you, with God as witness, that unless at once the fullest reparation to this poor man you have ruined, our society, will, in the most solemn manner, invoke the ever-reverse and vengeance of the great Saviour and the Apostles and all the saints in Heaven on the same time rely, that there will be made ample of you and every other member of cursed, disgraced, and hated name. One you has shown me a cured prepared for you, as follows:—"May the devil and his legion satellites break your back upon a rack, and your back bone into a German flute, to play the of Mallow" upon, before your condemned soul into the torturous and tormenting hell!"
Inspector St. Leger proved having searched of O'Connell at Lisheens, and having found a draft of a letter written upon similar paper on which the two letters found upon Morgan were written, and also a book with copies documents were not read.

A constable of police produced a sheet of note which he purchased in the shop of the father of the prisoner Ford, in Ballincollig, which was similar in nature and trade mark to the paper on which the letters were written which were received by Mr. Leahy, and Mr. and Mrs. Galgey, and which was the subject of the prosecution.
It was then given that John O'Connell, sen., in the service of the Inland Revenue De
