PROTESTANT YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Annual soiree of this association took place on an evening in the Protestant Orphan School, tastefully decorated for the occasion and attended by members of all nations. The attendance was highly respectable, and the arrangements were to the general satisfaction, and were ably conducted under the direction of the secretaries, Messrs. G. G. and Evans. Amongst those on the list in its immediate vicinity we noticed

Mr. Gregg, Incumbent of Trinity Church; Mr. G. G. son, Rev. John Elmes, Rev. John MacLoughlin, Rev. Thomas Elmes, Rev. Robert Kerr, Thomas Revington, President; F. W. Walsh, Esq., V.P.; Mr. G. G., Esq., V.P.; Benjamin Journeaux, Esq., Doctor Parker, William S. G. Maunsell, Esq., —Sommerville, Esq., Bank; Captain Addy, —Egars, Esq., Esq., —Whiteside, Esq., Joseph Sidley, Esq., Matterson, Esq., W. Nelson, Esq., Esq., J. N. Stephenson, Esq., Thos. J. Brown, Esq., F. Evans, James and many others whose names we could not give, on the motion of Rev. R. Orpen, and Mr. C. Hallowel, hon. secretary, the chair was taken by Thomas Revington, Esq., V.P., the report was moved by Rev. J. F. Morton, and seconded by Rev. J. Greer.

Mr. G. G. concluded the Rev. Mr. Orpin moved a resolution that Rev. R. Orpin, Esq., vice-president of the Association, be seated in the chair, and that motion being seconded by Mr. Hallowel, honorary secretary, passed, and Mr. Revington assumed the chair.

Mr. G. G. then called on the Secretary, Mr. G. G., to read the annual report which was accepted and acknowledged to be a most satisfactory one and was received with approbation by the Association. Mr. G. G. said that he was sure that the Association would be most gratifying to all who were present, (hear, hear,) but it struck him on casting his eye over the report that evening that there ought to be a larger assemblage of Protestant Young Men at which he then saw before him, and he would see an increase of their numbers. He would ask all who were present on that occasion to use their influence with the Protestant Young Men of this city, and induce them to become members of that association (hear, hear) and that the Protestant Young Men's Association of Dublin, of which he was a member, should do its utmost to the cause of the Association, to the amount of good, (hear, hear, hear), and be very sorry that he did not see a larger assemblage in the good cause here than he witnessed. One Protestant ought to join the heart with his fellow-Christian, in order to protect and maintain the truth, which is the basis of our religion, and so strangely attacked (hear,
