VERSION OF A DISSENTING MINISTER.—The E. Bailey, a Baptist minister of considerable reat at Hull, has abandoned unconformist principles, died himself to the Established Church. In a addressed to his congregation giving the reasons e course he has adopted, he says:—"At a very age my mind had imbibed the most noxious pre- es against the Establishment, which year by year e more deeply rooted, until, on the occasion of Nonconformist Bicentenary. I was called upon ally to examine the subject, and I became ead that the Anglican Church, instead of the unscriptural thing I fancied it to be, bears it God's own signature. The growing conviction i mind is that Dissenters have never impartially ined both sides of the question." Mr. Bailey, it l, intends seeking holy orders in connection with Established Church.
