THE REV. DR. WOODWARD, DEAN OF DOWN.)

"The DEAN OF DOWN has used Mr. E. Solomons' Spectacles, and considers them far superior to the ordinary Glasses and Pebbles which he has before worn, therefore has no hesitation in expressing the benefit conferred on him."—Downpatrick.
 (From the Right Hon. Lord Vaux of Harrowden.)
 "LORD VAUX OF HARROWDEN has found the greatest advantage to his sight from some years' use of Mr. E. Solomons' Spectacles, the eyes having been considerably benefited, being most preferable to the ordinary Glasses and Pebbles, which he has before worn."—Rosmead, Melvin, Westmeath.
 (From the late Right Hon. and Rev. Lord De Keyne.)
 "LORD DE KEYNE has great pleasure in being able to say that his Spectacles adapted to his sight by Mr. E. Solomons afford him the greatest ease and comfort, which he had not previously enjoyed when using the ordinary Glasses and Pebbles."—Renchpark, county of Roscommon.
 The HON. MAJOR KEANE considers that his sight has been materially improved by the Spectacles supplied by Mr. Solomons' some years ago, for he can read newspaper print with greater facility than before, even without artificial assistance."—Castle-town House, Churchtown, county Wexford.
 (From the Very Rev. Dean Farrelly, P.P.)
 "DEAN FARRELY is enabled, after some years experience, to state that Mr. E. Solomons' Spectacles are really what they are represented to be—the best Preservers for the sight ever produced. They afford him the greatest ease and pleasure in reading for many hours, either by day or artificial light, an enjoyment he had not previously had when using other glasses or pebbles."—Ardagh, County Longford.
 (From the Rev. M. J. M'DONNELL, P.P., [F.F.])
 "I have tried glasses for several years, and have derived from Mr. Solomons' Spectacles alone perfect repose for these, in addition to the greatest possible comfort. M. J. M'Donnell, P.P., V.F., Listowel, Kerry."

(From the Rev. M. KENNIFECK, P.P.)
 "Allow me to express my satisfaction for the Spectacles supplied by Mr. SOLOMONS; I have great comfort with them. They enable me to read with most perfect ease, creating a refreshing coolness, without the slightest sensation of pain or lassitude to the eye."
 "MAURICE KENNIFECK, P.P.
 Rathcormac, county Cork."
 The REV. PATRICK M'KEON, P.P., having suffered for a very lengthened period from extremely impaired sight, occasioned by constant reading, applied to Mr. Solomons for a pair of his celebrated spectacles, which have rendered so much service to his eyes as to cause him to be grateful—his sight is much improved.—
 The Rev. Mr. M'Keon is happy in thus being able to discharge a duty to the public by confirming, in his own case, the opinion so universally entertained of "Solomons' Spectacles," as he had previously experienced much injury and annoyance from glasses and pebbles purchased at other houses.—Drumlish, Longford.

MR. E. SOLOMONS' Spectacles have been used by eminent members of the Faculty, the Nobility, Clergy, &c., including—The Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, Lords Clonbrock, Crofton, Dunboynne, Athlone, the Deans of Ossory, Dromore, Clogher, Waterford, &c., &c.

The limits of an advertisement preclude the possibility of publishing the numerous Testimonials which are in Mr. SOLOMONS' possession, from other distinguished persons, and from eminent members of the Faculty of the United Kingdom.

CAUTION.—To prevent Imposition, it is necessary to observe that Mr. E. SOLOMONS employs 10 AGENTS or TRAVELLERS; and, after his departure from Limerick, his inventions can only be obtained at his Establishment, 19, NASSAU-STREET, DUBLIN, to which Address all Communications, and Articles for Repair should be sent, when they will meet with prompt and particular attention.
