DEATHS.

Yesterday evening, at his residence, 123, George-street, to the deep regret of a young and amiable wife, attached parents, and numerous friends, Mr. Samuel Moore, principal of the firm of Moore and Manning, clothiers and -outfitters. The deceased gentleman, whose illness was of short duration, was amiable and affectionate in domestic life, and by his kindness of manner and friendly disposition endeared him- self to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. In his last moments he evinced great earnestness and trust in the Saviour, having been attended by Christian ministers. All who knew Mr. Moore will lament the loss of one whose affability earned for him general esteem.
