DUBLIN CATTLE MARKET.

With a small supply of everything to-day our market opened briskly for the superior qualities of both beef and mutton—the former making from 10s to £1 10s advance; the latter at full previous value, the price of skins being a little further reduced. As the demand for what remained became exceedingly dull, and a very dragging clearance was effected, at irregular rates. Lambs not so abundant as former weather would produce—25s to 35s, and 40s range. Top beef, 65s to 70s; odd instances, 75s per cwt.—7d to 7½d, and 7¾d per lb; top mutton, 11 to 11½d do.; do., shorn, 9d to 9½d per lb. No wool.
