DUBLIN CATTLE MARKET.

Ganly and Co's Circular.

Cattle on market, 3,141; number last market, 2,270 decrease, 871; sheep on market, 5,056; number market, 4,140—increase, 916; veal calves, 77—decrease, 84; stores of all on market, 595; number last market, 489—decrease, 106.

The increased numbers did not more than meet the demand of English and Scotch buyers for every description of stock. Rinderpest restrictions in England have caused many new hands from the interior to come to our market, from whose competition in the sale of Irish graziers now derive the benefit.

PRICES.

Good heifer beef sold for 63s to 65s, and in small quantities 67s 6d per cwt; prime ox beef, 60s to 65s; even medium qualities seemed sought after just now for stalling at 60s. Best aged wether mutton, 8½d to 8¾d; best and ewe, 7d to 7½d per lb. Lambs, except for the season, going out of season, but selling well as stores at 25 to 35s each.

DUBLIN WOOL MARKET.

Ganley and Co's Circular.

Wool holds steadily on without fluctuation or excess at 1s 9d to 1s 10d per lb, the recent rise in prices tending to give confidence to the holders of

DUBLIN CORN MARKET,

CORN EXCHANGE.

Today's market was rather poorly supplied, and excited for every description of grain. Wheat at 1s to 1s 6d, barley 6d to 9d, oats 3d to 6d dearer on Tuesday. An increased demand for Indian corn at 1s to 2s advance.

Indian corn now laid up safely in the haggard does not force prices on the market, and what is called the season's crop seems to have arrived. Foreign reports and relative prophecies are at sea in the matter; but the danger of farmers' prices is past.

PRICES.
