AND DEATH RATE OF THE WORLD.— have calculated that if the population of amounts to between 1,200, and 1,300 sons, the number of deaths in a year out 82 millions. Assuming the correct-calculation, the deaths each day would 88,000, 3,600 per hour, 60 per minute, very second would carry into eternity one from one part of the world or another. oduction asserts its superior power; for, ting the probable annual births on the result shows that whereas 60 persons die , 70 children are born, and thus the in-he population is kept up—Lancet.
