

private of the 6th Regt., of Foot, stationed at Ennis, were brought up on a charge of singing a song in chorus when entering the town. The constable Alexander who preferred the charge, and that on the day previous he had heard the men singing the well-known song, "Glory, glory to Fenians," when they were entering the town in a Galway coach. He had been at the coach when the coach from Galway stopped, and had seen them. He then proceeded to the railway where the prisoners were going to Limerick four o'clock train and arrested them. Michael Moriarty, a trader from Cahirciveen, had been a passenger on the coach at the time of the offence, and who had been returning from Cahirciveen, where he had been shipping potatoes, and that the song the sailors had been singing was "Brown's Knapsack, such as 'We'll hang Jeff out of a sour apple tree, &c.'" He denied that he knew any disloyal songs sung on the occasion. A soldier in his own defence said that there was a man inside in the coach all the time, and if he were present he would be able to prove that there were no Fenian songs sung. The Bench under all the circumstances of the case ordered the prisoners to be discharged. The parties named Honan and Considine, who had been brought up on two previous occasions on suspicion of having stolen the sheep of Patt Brennan, from the lands of Gortmore, were discharged. James M'Mahon of Inegh, charged his son Thomas with scolding from his house and taking with him property. The Constable stated that he had seen the defendant and a young woman at a lodge in Clare Castle, and that on arresting them he had found one pound nineteen shillings and sixpence on the son, and three pounds with the girl. The constables were ordered and the case was referred to the assizes. The disposal of some unimportant police cases was adjourned.

OUT-DOOR RELIEF.
At 2 o'clock an adjourned meeting of the Board took place to consider the answer of the Poor Commissioners relative to the application made by the Guardians on Wednesday, to be permitted to have outdoor relief for a period of three weeks to the unemployed labourers and artisans of the town. The only Guardians present were—Thomas Greene, P., in the chair; John Leary, and John Cullis.

The Clerk read the letter of the Commissioners, in which they stated that they could not sanction any form of outdoor relief to the parties specified, in the event of there not being room in the workhouse, or that contagion prevailed there, as any such relief would be contrary to law. The Commissioners however observed in their opinion that they considered that the careful attention of the relieving officers to extreme cases of distress would meet the urgency of the pressure on the Guardians for relief. The Chairman said he regretted that the Commissioners had frustrated the humane intentions of the Board relative to the destitute tradesmen and artisans of Ennis, Clare Castle, and Newmarket. All the Guardians could do was to order the relieving officers to give temporary relief in food to all persons who were found in real destitution until the Board could be satisfied if they found that those parties could not be taken to the workhouse. The Chairman said he also regretted that the outdoor relief proposed had been resisted by the Commissioners. However he supposed that they had not been fully satisfied, and that they could not avoid the duty they had arrived at. The relieving officers would do all in their power to alleviate the distress. The Board considered that the relieving officers should be permitted in such a way as to relieve the really distressed and exercise the discretionary power vested in them in favour of the poor. A resolution had been adopted authorising the relieving officers to give temporary relief in kind to persons in distress the board adjourned.

NATIONAL BANK.
The removal of Messrs Fetherstone from Ennis on the 1st inst., which had been previously noticed, has been confirmed by the Mallow and Killarney branches.

It is announced from Chalons-sur-Saone that Andre Marechal, probably the oldest military volunteer in Europe. He was born in 1764, entered the army in 1781, served through all the wars of the French Republic and those of Napoleon, and was promoted to the rank of Colonel in 1812. He had received six and crosses for his services. There was only a limited inquiry for sheep, on former terms. The top figure was 6s. per 8lb. The supply was by no means extensive. Calves commanded very little attention; yet prices were supported. The highest figure was 5s. 6d. per 8lb. The few pigs in the market were much neglected.
