

A telegram has been received, announcing the death of Colonel Clarke Kennedy, C.B., the Commandant of the Military Train. As is well known, he had been sent to Egypt to superintend the despatch of the mules for the Abyssinian expedition, and had nearly completed his task last when he was seized with dysentery, dying on Wednesday night at Cairo. Colonel Kennedy was a very clever as well as a very distinguished officer.

One of the new Indian troopships, the 'Crocodile' has just made a very rapid passage to Malta. She took the 1st Battalion, 6th Foot, on board at Queenstown on the 7th inst. (not the 30th Rifles, as stated in the telegram), and left harbour on the 8th. She reached Malta on the 16th, and thus made the run some hours under eight days. The 6th are en route to India, via Egypt.

The new canteen system is producing excellent results in the 43rd Light Infantry, stationed at Aldershot. The following judicious arrangements have been made for disposing of part of the large surplus fund now in the hands of the Canteen Committee. Each company is to receive £5 as a contribution towards their Christmas festivities, and the serjeants' mess a sum of £15 for a like purpose. — Each boy attending the regimental school is to be presented with a suit of clothes, and each girl a dress, jacket, and hat. A Christmas treat for the school children will also be provided out of the canteen fund. As an additional proof of the excellent manner in which this canteen is managed, it may be stated that, while the articles sold in the canteen are of good quality, the prices are lower than those of many canteens in camp. A board of officers assembled on Tuesday last, to report upon the most convenient site for a canteen and recreation-room for the Royal Artillery stationed at Aldershot.

The Lord Bishop of Cashel has appointed the Ven. John Alcock, Archdeacon of Waterford, to the Chancellorship of Waterford Cathedral, rendered vacant by the demise of the Rev. R. H. Ryland.

A very large meeting took place last week at the Gymnasium Hall, Huddersfield, to hear the Rev. G. Lawrence's reply to a lecture by the Liberation Society's agent. Mr. Lawrence exposed the fallacious statements circulated by that society, especially those about the Irish Church.

An ordination was held on last Sunday, in Limerick Cathedral, by the Lord Bishop of the diocese, when the following gentlemen were admitted to Deacon's Orders, namely—William Archibald MacDonald, A.B., for curacy of Loughill; Daniel Orr, A.B., for curacy of Tralee; Thomas Whaley, A.B., as diocesan curate; and (on letters dismissory from the Bishop of Killaloe)—Samuel Edward Burns, A.B., for curacy of Borrisafarney. The candidates had been under examination during the four previous days' by the Lord Bishop and his Chaplain's, the Revds. R.P. Graves, A.M., and James Walsh, A.M. The sermon preached by the last named, ably and faithfully set forth ministerial difficulties, dangers, and duties, in the present day.
