SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. MARTIN HENEHAN.

On this day an inquest was held by John Gleeson, Esq., coroner, at the residence of Mr. Martin Henehan, Brunswick-street, who died suddenly on yesterday evening, shortly after dinner, in a fit which he took. The following gentlemen were sworn on the jury:—Gilbert Dowling, Michael Cusack, Michael O'Connor, Michael Scanlon, Michael Moroney, George Barry, Thomas Roche, William O'Neill, Denis Trehy, George M. Spong, William M'Sweeney, D. M'Sweeney.
 It appeared in evidence that on yesterday morning he partook of breakfast heartily as usual, and also of dinner, between half-past two o'clock and three o'clock, after which he went to the yard, from which he returned, and sat down in the room, his son Martin and a man named Guinane being present. The son went out, leaving his father in the room, when very soon after, Guinane went into the yard and told him his father had fallen down just after he had left, there being not more than five minutes' interval. The son, on returning, found him lying on the floor, near the sofa, speechless. He sent for Dr. Burke, and went for him himself, while Guinane ran for a priest, but on the arrival of those gentlemen, he was dead.
 He had only taken a bottle of bitter ale at dinner, and for some days past had only taken a few drops of spirits and water, but at dinner he was not under the influence of drink. The evidence of Dr. Burke was that he found the deceased dead on his arrival. He was aware that last winter twelve months the deceased had complained of his chest. He knew him for several years past, and from all the information he could collect, and his antecedents, to the best of his opinion the man died from disease of the heart.
 The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the doctor's testimony.

Guardians of the Limerick Union of the 18th inst., in which the Board call upon the Commissioners at once to issue the necessary order under seal for the removal of the two officers named in their communication of the 17th ultimo, and that in the meantime those officers be suspended from their respective duties. In reference to these resolutions the Commissioners have to state that while they retain the opinion expressed in their letter of the 16th ult., they must nevertheless decline to dismiss Doctor O'Sullivan by sealed order, in as much as they are of opinion that the charges substantiated against him are not such as would justify that extreme measure. For the same reason the Commissioners must decline to issue an order for the dismissal of Miss Gerraghty.— The Commissioners have at the same time to draw the guardians' attention to the 41st Article of the General Regulations, which provides that every officer appointed under the order shall continue to hold his office until he die or resign, or be removed by the Commissioners; but at the same time provides that every 'assistant' may be dismissed by the Board of Guardians without the consent of the Commissioners—I am, Sir, &c.,

"B. BANKS, Secretary."

Mr. Adamson—I propose that Dr. O'Sullivan be sent an account of that letter, and that he be called back to the house (cries of hear, hear, and no, no.)

Mr. James Ryan—What is the meaning about the word assistant?

Mr. O'Donnell—That we have the power of dismissing them.

Mr. Hall—Does it mean that we have the power of dismissing Dr. O'Sullivan?

Mr. Brown—Not in the least.

Mr. O'Donnell—I now move,—having heard that letter read—Doctor O'Sullivan being suspended that we advertise for a qualified medical officer to act during his suspension.

Mr. Powell—Why? Have we dismissed him.

A Guardian—The Board have not.

The Chairman said he thought he could not receive the resolution.

Mr. O'Donnell replied that it was a perfectly legal one he moved, that pending Dr. O'Sullivan's suspension a medical officer be appointed.

Mr. Brown—He is not now under suspension. It was only till we heard from the Commissioners.

Mr. O'Donnell—Read the resolution that was adopted the last day.

The Clerk then read the resolution which was that the conduct of Dr. O'Sullivan, as proved before the Committee in the House, and subsequently on oath before Mr. Bourke, Poor Law Inspector, and was confirmed by two resolutions of the Board, rendered his retirement from the Board indispensable, and that the Board call on the Commissioners to issue a sealed order for the removal of these two officers, and that in the mean they be suspended from their offices.

Mr. Phayer—Not the entire Board, for we were not all unanimous.

Mr. O'Donnell—But the resolution passed binds the minority. I now hand in my resolution.

Chairman—I am afraid that under the Commissioners' letter I cannot receive that, because they absolutely state they will not dismiss them, and they hold office.

Mr. O'Donnell—Excuse me, indeed they do not, for the resolution suspended them, and I hold that we have the power to advertise for officers in their stead.

Mr. Brown—Don't the Commissioners say they have no right to suspend them?

Chairman—There is no doubt but that the Board have a right to suspend them during the Commissioners' pleasure but not to dismiss them.

Mr. O'Donnell here repeated the meaning of his resolution, which he contended was perfectly legal.

Chairman—No one knows the construction of an act of parliament better than you do, Mr. O'Donnell, but you must admit that the one in this case may be construed liberally.

Mr. O'Donnell—I am not saying one word against Dr. O'Sullivan now. I merely move the appointment of an officer during his suspension.

Mr. Powell—Then you only move for the appointment of a temporary officer.

Mr. O'Donnell—Yes; it is only pending his suspension.

Mr. McSheehy here read the section of the Act of Parliament bearing on the case which was that any Board of Guardians may suspend from the discharge of their duty any officer, except the Clerk, Auditor, Chaplain, and Treasurer, and shall report such suspension, and if the Commissioners should not remove such suspension such officer should remain and continue to discharge his duties as if he had not rea medical officer appointed, for he did not

Dr. Brodie—The committee authorised that, and said the Board would remun-

Mr. O'Donnell—I ask Mr. Nash to read livan should retire.

Chairman—Oh, no.

A Guardian—They only recommended

Mr. Phayer—Let us have the letter read.

Dr. Parker, who had just entered, obserthe duty of the Board was very simple, w-that pending the question at issue they ha-was Dr. M'Namara. One of them would co-

Mr. Powell thought Mr. O'Donnell's proto invite officers to present themselves to th-

Mr. O'Donnell's proposition read?

Dr. Parker—No. He was never moving it,
