CITY POLICE COURT—THIS DAY.

AN ALLEGED CLERICAL IMPOSTER.

Eugene O'Callaghan, Esq., J.P., presided.

A man of about 50 years of age, who gave the name of John Naughton, was brought up by Constable Shea, who charged him on suspicion with being an imposter and collecting money in the garb of a priest. The Constable stated that he heard such a party was going through the town collecting money, and that he was an imposter. He followed him yesterday to his lodgings, Queen street, and arrested him. He produced a certificate of ordination which the Rev. Mr. Browne could not say was not genuine.

Constable King handed up the document in question which he said the Rev. Mr. Carberry examined, and stated was genuine. The accused made a long rambling statement, alleging that he got a heavy attack of brain fever in Marseilles some years ago, and was subject to aberrations of the intellect since, which led him sometimes to do unaccountable things. He was ordained by the late Cardinal Wiseman in 1844, and served on the foreign and home missions. He submitted letters and documents to the court, some from Dr. Power, R.C.B. of Killaloe, to bear out his statement, and added that he was collecting in Limerick, for the purpose of enabling him to go on the foreign mission;

The accused was remanded.
