JOHN MURRAY, Albemarle Street,
October 20.

A blacksmith of a village in Spain murdered a man, and was condemned to be hanged. The chief peasants of the place joined together, and begged the alcalde that the blacksmith might not suffer, because he was necessary to the place, which could not do without a blacksmith to shoe horses, mend wheels, &c. But the alcalde said, "How then can I fulfil justice?" A labourer answered, "Sir, there are two weavers in the village, and for so small a place one is enough. Hang the other!"
