CORK WOOL MARKET.

Kennedy's Circular.

l markets for the past week have exhibited most and most sluggish appearance of the season. Consumers having lately supplied, and to some extent, their proximate wants with the recent heavy arrivals, which find their way to market, has caused quite a stagnation in business. Merchants and Staplers make no enquiry, and assert that present prices in the country result in a loss if sold in the country. On the whole the sales for the past week were limited, and, in all instances, of a declining nature.

Present quotations are—

Selected Wethers, 14½d to 15d.

Selected Hogs, 16½d to 17d.
