Production of Lytton's magnificent Play of
The Lady of Lyons!!!

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS:

Captain Disney Roebuck, who appeared as Claude Melnotte, acted with impressive earnestness, and was repeatedly applauded. Mrs. B. R. Williams was a pretty and graceful Pauline. She played throughout with good taste and sensibility, and delivered the pathetic passages with a feminine tenderness of tone and manner which, having no taint of affectation or sentimentality, was exceedingly effective.—Morning Post.

The representative of Pauline is a lady of most prepossessing appearance. Her acting, as well as that of the gallant Captain, was unexceptionable—perfectly natural, easy, and unaffected, and such as would reflect no small degree of credit upon professionals of long experience upon the "boards."—Liverpool Times.
