Royal Artillery, will be withdrawn from Warley at the end of the present month, and concentrated with the lst and 2nd divisions at Woolwich, under the brigade staff commanded by Colonel J. M, Adye, CB., R.A. The barracks at Warley will subsequently be occupied by the 2nd battalion of the 9th Regt. of Infantry.

The final transfer to the War Department of the barracks and infirmary, recently occupied by the Royal Marines at Woolwich, has been effected. Captain and Barrackmaster Ellis, who remained in charge at that place until the transfer was completed, has joined the Royal Marine Depot at Walmer, for duty there as Barrackmaster.

By the death of Major-General S.r Edward Wetherall, Colonel Sir John Douglas, KCB., formerly of the 79th Highlanders, becomes a major-general; Major F. B. Tritton, late of a depot battalion, a lieutenant-colonel; and Captain W. H. Graves, late 18th foot, and Staff officer of Pensioners at Newry, a major in the Army.

A reward of £100 a-year for good service is vacant by the death of Maior-General Sir E. Wetherall.

A vacancy has occurred in the Honourable Corps of Gentlemen-at-Arms by the death of Major James Leith, VC, which occurred on the 13th inst.

The Naval pension of £50 a year, vacant by the death of Commander Henry Johnston on the 2nd inst, has been granted from that date to Commander James Loveless.

Major Boiton is about to resign the appointment of Deputy Assistant Quartermaster Generalship at Chatham. He will be succeeded in the duties of that office by Captain Le Mesurier, Royal Engineers.

On the expiration of his present leave, Deputy Inspector General O'Fisherty will assume the duties of Principal Medical Officer at Chatham. Staff Surgeon Hulseberg has obtained two months' leave of absence. Assistant Staff Surgeon Barry has rejoined at Chatham from sick leave, and will remain in that command until his promotion.

The Lieutenant-General at Aldershot has conveyed to the regiments at the Camp the satisfaction expressed by his Royal Highness the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief with the work done by the officers who attended the last Survey class.

The new squadron organization of cavalry regiments, as opposed to the "troop" system, having nearly disorganised that arm of the service, has been suddenly suspended, and it is in contemplation to revert to the old system.

The vacancy caused by the lamented death of Staff Commander Akaster, of H.M.S. Malabar, has been given to Mr. H. J. Chalke, Navigating Sub-Lieut. of that ship, by Captain Pickard, of H.M.S. Jumna, the senior officer at Bombay. We believe that the Admiralty will confirm this officer in his rank, it being a death vacancy.

Instructions from the Horse Guards have been received at Chatham for volunteering to be opened in the 2nd Battalion, 14th, and the 82nd Regiments for the under mentioned corps :- 1st Battalion, 1st; 2nd Battaliou, 10th; 1st Battalion, 11th; 2nd Battalion, 12th; 1st Battaliou, 17th; 2nd Battalion, 24th; 25th, 37th, 45th, 58th, 62nd, 66th, 78rd, 75th, 89th, 105th, 106th, and 107th Regiments. The number to be given by the 2nd Battalion, 14th, is limited to ninety men, and by the 82nd to ten men. We believe that no later than March last the 2nd Battalion, 14th, received about 150 volunteers from various other corps, and, in accordance with the Regulations, each volunteer received the usual bounty of 21s. The same unter received the usual bounty of 21s. The same men have now the opportunity of volunteering again and receiving another bounty, and as there are many other expenses connected with the transfer of men besides the bounties, the loss to the country will be considerable. The possibility of making capital in this manner tends also to unsettle men, and to make bem up "volunteering" as a profession.

The Preston operatives have struck their flag, and their leaders advise their fellow-workmen to make the best terms they can with their employers. The failure of the strike is attributed to "the cowardice failure of the strike is attributed to "the cowardice of Preston and Blackburn." In appealing for subscriptions the workmen's executive says:—"We hope each district will do its duty this week. Having done so, you will be able to say, "We have done all that lies in our power in this our day and generation to rescue labour from the iron grasp of capital.'" tion of the Control system the abolition of the office of Quartermaster-General next year may be expected.

In the New York papers of 5th inst, it is stated that the new American Minister, Mr Motley, brings with him to England written instructions as to the nature of the demands to be made in respect to the Alabama claims. The exact character of the instructions has not transpired, but the New York Herald believes that they are based on Mr Sumner's speech, "which appears to have been made our ultimatum." Mr Motley, the Herald says, is directed to be in no burry, but to await a favourable opportunity for opening negociations. If this intelligence is true it in no way abates the serious aspect the question has assumed of late, for the English press representing the feeling of the country, and probably the opinion of the Government, have agreed that the demands put for-ward by Mr Sumner could not be entertained for a moment. The Herald says that Mr Sumner is himself in no way discouraged by the reception of his speech in England, and believes that when the British Cabinet has had time for reflection it will come round to
