fire of questions preceded the going may commissed of Sapply. A discussion took place as to the condition of Tralee gaol, the principal feature of which was that there are goine warders in charge of 36 prisoners.

Early summer brings with it, as in past years, the scourge of brigandage in the southern provinces of Italy. Bands are reappearing in various parts, under the leadership of chiefs who have laid aid all the winter in the houses of the manutengoti, who hold towards the brigands the same position as that of the Jew Fagar towards the annable Sykes and his fraternity. Palma and Dornemio Fucce are his fraternity. Palma and Dornemio Fuoco are still at large, and will speedily have a numerous fol-lowing, as in former years, unless the troops are so fortunate as to put an end to their long career of atrocity. Other brigand leaders, emulous of their fame, are making their appearance in severel directions, and the Neapolitan papers bring us the old sed story of captives held to radsom, or murdered under circumstances of sickening barbarity if the rangeme fails.
