

-I don't think we took advantage of per time—namely, before the meeting

-They met to threaten the govern-country, and to uphold wrongs against nation.

-You cannot blame men in such a when their church is in such peril (hear).

-I don't know what these gentlemen quite clear that they did not meet in the purpose of changing the law. The try and have the law supported as it is.

-They met to oppose Mr Gladstone

-And to threaten the government—arty, I must say, got a good deal by the government. Only for threatening nt we would not have the many privi/ enjoy.

-But we have a right to threaten the (laughter.)

in our side is virtue and Erin ;
in theirs is the Saxon and guilt."
