HUNTING APPOINTMENTS.

The Castle-Connell Harriers will meet for April as follows:—Tuesday, 19th, Aherina Castle; Friday, 22nd, Ballinabinch Chapel. Hour—Half-past 11.

PROVINCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

AN AWKWARD MISPRINT—A Newry contemporary giving a report of an address delivered at a temperance meeting last Tuesday evening, represents the speaker as having said, "The temperance movement had reformed many men, but it had failed to make a national regeneration. They were free to admit that it was a drunken notion, and that intemperance still blocked the way." "Nation," we presume, was the word used by the speaker.

THE ATTEMPTED MURDER IN DERRY—John Campbell, who was shot by his nephew on Wednesday, is progressing as favourably as could be expected. Some time must elapse before the doctors can state definitely whether he will recover.

Mr Justice Morris sat at Mallow yesterday, but adjourned during the hours of Divine service. The petitioner's rebutting case was continued. Mr Reeves, who took an active part in the interest of Major Knox, was examined. He said he never offered money to Tuckey or to any other voter to support Major Knox. The statements that he done so in any instance were untrue. He admitted that he had paid £40 to men on the day of nomination and polling in Knox's interest.

The hearing of the Mallow election petition was resumed on Thursday, with the continuation of evidence for the respondent. Patrick Lyons swore that a man named Norcott had told him that Major Knox would leave £900 in the borough, and that £50 or £60 would be of no use to him. Mr Waters, J.C., was also examined. He explained that his retirement was the result of a disinclination to divide the Liberal interest and to expend money on a contest the issue of which he could not calculate with certainty. He emphatically repudiated the existence of any other pecuniary considerations. A rebutting case for the petitioner was then gone into. The Rev. Mr. Murphy, C.C., deposed to a conversation which he had had with Mr Moriarty, solicitor, and in which the latter stated that he would make the contest one of Orangeman and Catholic. Mr Moriarty, having been re-called, stated that the expression he used was to the effect that the contest might assume that aspect. Mr Brazier Creagh denied the charges of bribery and corrupt practices made against him by some of the witnesses for the respondent.

The rebutting case for Major Knox was continued yesterday at the hearing of the Mallow election petition. Mr. E. H. Reeves denied in the most positive manner every allegation of bribery or corrupt treating made against him by the witnesses for the respondent. Mr Priestly gave similar evidence, but on cross examination admitted that he offered rewards for evidence of corrupt practices on the part of Mr. Muuster, on condition that the judge attached credit to it. John Wynne and other witnesses having been examined in disproof of alleged bribery, Major Knox gave evidence as to his expense account. He stated that he never gave any countenance to bribery, and that on the contrary he gave particular instruction to the agents to prevent all sorts of corrupt practices. He further asserted that whenever he was informed of the feasibility of purchasing votes, he stated that if the smallest expenditure of money insured his success he would not be guilty of it.

ANOTHER BURGLARY IN THE CITY—On Wednesday night the office of Mr John Mahony, butter merchant, Mulgrave-road, was broken into and robbed. The burglars scaled the outer wall, got into a yard, thence ascended the roof of a shed which adjoins the office, so reached the window, broke the glass, undid the fastening, and got into the office. There they broke open a desk and abstracted about 2s in silver and copper, with which slender booty they levanted. There was a considerable sum of money on the premises, which they failed to find, and some articles of wearing apparel were left behind. The police believe they have a clue to the party or parties who committed the offence.—Cork Examiner.

THE WATERFORD ELECTION PETITION.—The bill of particulars in the Waterford election petition required by Mr. Osborne contains 148 names.

Two men have been arrested in Tipperary for singing seditious songs in the presence of soldiers, class, but with an admixture of roughs and idlers. A procession started from Clerkenwell Green, preceded by bands playing the "Marseillaise," and men bearing rude representations of Roman faces, surmounted by Red Caps of Liberty. The proceedings were on the whole orderly. Mr Hennessy, the chairman, said no man in England need be out of employment if the State would undertake the reclamation of the waste lands of the country. Waste labour and waste lands were evils, but employ the latter on the former, and good would result. Mr Edgington read a letter, in which Mr Gladstone stated his inability, from pressure of business, to receive a deputation from the League, but asked for a written statement of its views. The speaker said that although Mr Gladstone could not receive the League, he could receive licensed victuallers, and such like people. Mr Nestor moved a resolution calling on the State as the only true landlord to take possession of all unused land, paying the market rate, and let the land to working men in associations or otherwise, who should not be disturbed as long as the rent was paid and the land cultivated up to the mixed standard. Mr Weston said the Saviour whose name people celebrated to-day was not the saviour of the unemployed workmen (cheers). Gladstone had refused to receive the League, but such a course if persisted in would one day be regretted by the Government. Mr Gladstone proposed to pacify Ireland, but introduced the Coercion Bill, which was his own proper designation. Unless he changed his policy the cry of the Irish people must be down with the Ministry. People spoke against Bradlaugh and Atheists, but they had more practical christianity than the whole bench of bishops. Mr Biddel seconded the resolution, saying that as churches that day celebrated the birth of Christ. They had met to celebrate the birth of comfort and happiness for the unemployed working classes.

THE INSPECTION OF CONVENTS.

The Daily News thinks it is unfortunate that the proposal to appoint a select committee to enquire into conventual and monastic institutions should have been so intimately associated with the name of Mr Newdegate, but it hopes the Government will not commit themselves to any effort to rescind the resolution. The motion of the member for North Warwickshire represents the deliberate mind of Parliament, and the mature judgment of the country. It embodies no interference with any spiritual power or authority, but solely represents the determination of Englishmen that spiritual authorities shall not get aside the secular law.

THE LAND BILL AND THE NORTH.

Belfast, Friday Night—A circular was issued signed by the Secretaries of the Belfast, Ballymena, and Route tenant right Associations, summoning a conference of the delegates of the associations of Ulster to be held at the Town Hall, Ballymony, on Monday next. A public meeting will be held in the evening in the same place.

THE MINISTRY AND THE LIBERAL PARTY.

The Standard says it is by no means a cause for surprise that the Liberal party and their organs should view the position of the Ministry and the prospect of Government legislation rather as a matter for anxious speculation than as a subject for exultant rejoicing. Mr Gladstone's majority has outlived the purpose which it was originally created to serve, and is now resolving itself into its original elements. In process of time some new device may be found for welding them together. Under present circumstances, the party is fast assuming the likeness of that disorderly rabble so graphically described by Mr Bouverie three years ago.

DUBLIN CATTLE MARKET.

5, Smithfield, Dublin, April 14, 1870
(L. Cuffs & Sons Report.)

We had a further decrease in the number of beasts at market to-day, notwithstanding which, beef met a slow sale, prime descriptions only maintaining last week's rates, whilst secondary and inferior were difficult to sell, even at lower prices. Supply of sheep larger, demand good, prime wethers bringing 1d per lb more than last market, and even inferior quality made an early clearance at full prices of last week.

Good fresh samples of oats were in request at our Exchange during the week; no other alteration worth noting.

Prices—Prime beef, 60s to 67s 6d per cwt; secondary and inferior, 50s to 57s 6d; prime wethers, 9d per lb; ewe, 7d to 8d; grass lambs, 20s to 30s each. Supply—Beasts, 1673; sheep, 4558.

as inside servant in the city of county of Limerick. He understands his business well in all its branches, and will be well recommended by his present master.

Any commands addressed to William Naughton, 27, Pembroke Road, Dublin, shall be respectfully attended to.
