property of religious associations, as a continuation of the holding of them main as incapable of alienation, and simplify the administration of the attending local franchises, in order to transfer of the capital; to restore all the finances; carefully and prudently the system of taxation; to pay off the national armaments; and to record and improve its training and instructive force with the experiences of the War.

The report concludes with a suggestion that the transfer of the capital shall be made in 1871.

CAUSE OF THE REJECTION OF THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

The Versailles correspondent of the Graphic on Thursday night, says he had a long interview to day with the French Minister of War at the Sevres outposts. Bismarck, according to the proposals of admitting food during the twenty-five days armistice, elections. The Provisional Government agree to the armistice, unless food is sent into Paris. So the case now stands.

A special telegram in the Daily News states that the King of Prussia refuses to leave until peace is concluded or an armistice is proposed that the North German Federal Diet, held its session in the middle of Versailles is being seriously entered.

The Times thinks it was no doubt a march refusing to admit food into negotiations were yesterday broken off, says there can be no excuse for any longer delusions as to the full nothing to relieve its blackness, light is anyway apparent, but Paris Pestilence and slaughter might still besiege and the besieged will be burnt in France, and families be scattered in Germany, and little children will learn terrible lessons, through the Christian gospel of hatred and revenge. Two inflexible wills are in collision, and thus only, that it can be said, has strength enough to grind the city.

The Daily News greatly regrets to have been broken off. It is, however, to decide who is most to blame for this. It cannot be said that General Trochu and his colleagues have shown themselves in the cause of peace. The war will be under circumstances which will aggravate it.

The Post throws the blame on
