

In the first case the complaint was preferred by one of the Night Watch for obstructing him in the discharge of his duty, and inciting a mob to rescue a prisoner from him; and in the second case, Frawley, who is a publican, preferred a complaint against Hinchy for assault. The whole affair took place about eleven o'clock at night. The evidence of Mr Frawley was, that he saw Hinchy with another Watchman dragging a prisoner, and he saw Hinchy strike the prisoner several times with a stick, of "pole" as it is called, from the time the party was arrested in Athlunkard-street till taken to the Watch-house. He threatened to report him, and he followed the parties to the Watch-house, where he was refused admittance, but when Hinchy came out he struck him, dragged him in, and preferred a charge of obstruction against him.

Mr. Frawley's evidence was corroborated by independent witnesses.

The Mayor said the Bench dismissed the case against Mr. Frawley, and they desired him to inform the watchmen that while upholding them in the discharge of their duty they would not permit them to act towards prisoners with their poles in the ferocious manner it was proved the watchman acted in the present case, and were it not for the good character he had received from the constabulary and his inspector, they would fine him severely, as it was they would fine him 2s 6d with the costs of court.

Mr. Kenny, who appeared for Frawley, applied to have solicitor's costs given, but the Bench refused.

Mr. Doyle, who had only a few minutes before entered court, then interfered and argued in favour of giving solicitor's costs, that although judgment was given in his favour Frawley would be actually punished if the costs were not given.

The Bench bolted their former ruling, and mulcted the poor watchman in solicitor's costs along with the fine.

Mr. Noonan applied for transfer of a spirit license to him from a man named M'Mahon near Vyse's Fields.

Head Constable O'Brien gave the applicant a very high character, and said he had served his time in one of the most respectable establishments in the town.

The application was granted.

So many contradictory reports as to the amount expended by M Haussmann on the rebuilding of Paris have been circulated, that it may not be out of place to give the exact figures according to an official return just published. The total expenditure during the last seventeen years amounts to 2,117,500,000fr (£82,700,000). Of this the city has paid almost one half—1,022,500,000fr (£4,090,000), out of its own resources. The balance, amounting to £18,800,000, has been raised by various loans.

BIRMINGHAM CATTLE MARKET.

We were fully supplied with beasts to day, the general condition mid'ling. The inquiry for choice qualities was fair at fully late prices; inferior sold slowly at barely late rates. The number of sheep was seasonably large; sales progressing slowly about late quotations. Calves, a moderate supply, dull and heavy, late prices realised. Fat pigs a good supply, demand good: Beef, 5½d to 7½d per lb; mutton, 6½d to 9d per lb; veal, 6½d to 8½d per lb; bacon pigs, 10s 9d to 11s 7d per score; pork, do; 11s to 11s 7d per score.

BRISTOL CATTLE MARKET.

We had not a large supply of beef, but it was more than sufficient for the demand, trade being rather quiet; there was an inquiry for best descriptions, which realized high prices, from 70s to 75s being obtained for anything particularly good, but inferior and secondary samples ranged from 64s to 66s per cwt. There was hardly an average supply of sheep, but it was pretty equal to the demand, trade being rather quiet. Best wethers changed hands at 9½, and inferior sorts sold at from 7½d to 8d. The supply of store cattle was very short, and they are too dear now for much business to be done with them; we only received from Ireland about 250. The show of which cows was rather numerous, but there were only a few good descriptions among those on offer, and prices ranged from £14 to £20. The supply of pigs was short, and prices were a shade higher, than last week, barren pigs selling at 11s 3d, and porkers from 11s to 11s 9d per score.

LEEDS CATTLE MARKET.

There was a large supply of fat cattle at market to day, the most of which were of excellent quality. There was an average number of sheep, which made a little more money than last week. First quality beef 7½d to 7¾d per lb; second quality 6½d to 7d; best mutton, small north country wethers 8½d to 9d; good quality (large sheep) 8d to 8½d; ewes, 7½d. Number of beasts, 610; sheep, 2,360. Fat pigs are rather scarce, and sell at from 8s 2d to 8s 6d per stone of 14lb. Fat calves are also in small supply, and sell at 7½d to 8½d per lb.

YORK CATTLE MARKET.

There was a large show of fat beasts, for which there was a slow trade at from 7s to 8s 9d per st, at which rates a large number were also brought to the hammer by Mr T Walker. A few lots were left unsold. Although the show of lean beasts was moderate, there was but a slow trade. In-casting cows were in average number, and the prices differed little, if anything from those of the last market.—Irish cattle found but a meagre display, and the trade was slow in consequence of the high prices.—Fat sheep in number about met the demand, and a brisk trade was done at from 7½d to 9d per lb.—There was a more active business done among hogs than for some time past, while the show for the season was large. The prices realized were from 35s to 50s each. Among pigs the trade was active, and all were sold at from 8s to 9s 3d per stone.

MONMOUTHSHIRE CATTLE MARKET.

The cattle trade has this week assumed a more cheerful aspect than has been perceived for several weeks in this district. At the market at Newport there was a good attendance, and there seemed to be a more cheerful feeling prevailing in business. The supply of beef was both good and large, and prices remained as last week, ranging from 7½d to 8½d per lb. Mutton was in pretty good supply, and was quoted as last week—viz, the best at from 7½d to 8½d per lb. There was little doing in pigs. Bacon pigs were quoted 11s to 11s 6d per score; porkers 11s 6d to 12s 6d per score.

WAKEFIELD CATTLE MARKET.

There was 930 fat beasts, 4,700 sheep, 120 store cattle, and a small supply of pigs at market. A good clearance was effected at fully last week's prices. Beef 7s 6d to 8s 6d per stone of 14lb; first quality of mutton 8d to 8½d per lb; secondary 7d to 7½d; fat pigs 8s 2d to 8s 9d per stone of 14lb; small store pigs 30s to 40s each; large ditto 45s to 55s.

DUBLIN CATTLE MARKET.

(L. Coffe & Sons Report.)
5, Smithfield, Dublin, Jan 20, 1870
We have to report a considerable reduction in the numbers of both sheep and cattle at market. Demand for beef brisk, making a good clearance at last week's rates; prime sheep also sold well, but secondary and inferior met a slow trade, and were difficult to move.
Corn still continues dull, oats at last Thursday's market being fully 3d per barrel lower.

PRICES.

Prime beef, 63s 6d to 67s 6d per cwt; secondary and inferior, 55s to 60s per do; prime wether, 8½d per lb; ewe, 6½d to 7½d per do.

Supply—Beasts, 1773; sheep, 5338.
