TURLOUGHMORE RACES.
 These annual sports came off in a grandly decorated vale, or Turlough, romantically situated on the base of ridge of rocky mountains. The celebrated cave of St. Columbkill is still the favourite of the traveller and tourist as the rest of the religious, whom our Scotch neighbours imagine exclusively belonged to. But, however this be, the locality in the neighbourhood of the racecourse is classic in connection with the legends so famous in the annals of Irish history, and contributes much each revolving of sportsmen and tourists to the spot. Some eight or ten miles from Gort on the Galway side, and about twelve miles from Clare. It is perfectly remote, as towns, villages, or even hamlets are absent from its environs. Here the lovers of the turf met on yesterday to contend for the £1200 prize by the custom on cattle sold at the Turloughmore the previous day, and the Turloughmore proprietor for that purpose. The Turloughmore and Galway, in large numbers, were engaged to the spot, as if neutral ground between two counties so dissimilar in dialect and characteristics of their inhabitants. The mile steeple chase, 12st. for all horses, was the first race started—Mr. Shine's Cornish, Cullinan's Madge, Mr. O'Brien's Alexander's Midge, and Mr. Moran's Madge. After a good start, and a pretty well fought and spur race, Mr. Shine's Cornish was the winner; Mr. Cullinan's Madge running second, and Mr. O'Brien's Lapwing third.

FAIR OF TURLOUGHMORE.
 Yesterday the above annual fair was held on the banks of the counties of Clare and Galway. A large supply of stock exhibited, and a large attendance from the neighbouring counties and a considerable attendance. Prices were brisk, and a fair share of business done at remunerative prices. The quotations were—For three-year-old calves £12 to £15; two-year-olds from £10 to £12; yearlings from £5 to £8 10s.; pigs from £13 to £18; hoggets sold at from 17s. to 21s. each; fat lambs from 50s. to 60s.

FRISON INSPECTION.
 Mr. Burke, one of the Inspectors of Frisons, recently inspected the County Frison, and expressed himself in terms was actually bought up before it could be weighed, such was the spirited demand for the excellent quality of butter produced in this locality. The buying commenced at 12 o'clock and ended at one p.m., a system that will be invariably carried out in future, and a system that will also enable the Limerick and Kilmallock buyers to return to Newcastle West by the 4 o'clock mail car on the evening of the market day. The buyers seemed well pleased and the sellers were greatly pleased with the ample prices realized; and no buyer who wishes to attend this market now, or at any future time, can have any complaint whatever, for the National Bank is ready and willing to afford every accommodation both to buyers and sellers from 10 o'clock in the morning, till half past 3 in the evening.—Correspondent.

THE TAILORS' STRIKE IN CORK.—A meeting of master tailors was held yesterday. The object was to meet delegates from the trade, with a view to compromise. The latter, however, held aloof, and the meeting was addressed by several master tailors in defence of their own conduct. They denied it was a lock-out on their part, and expressed their determination to resist unreasonable demands.
