

...anting but what would result...
...antage of the harbour.

The Chairman said the Secretary ought to be directed to communicate with the Board of Trade in the subject, and let them see that the matter was kept astir, and that no lethargy was exhibited on their part. They should also inform that body what they were to take no further action in the matter for the present.

The Mayor—There are fully 1,000 acres of land in that slob.

Mr. Russell—And very good land, too.
Mr. M'Donnell—In that letter the Law Adviser lays great stress upon the phrase that they should not give the land to any private speculator.

The Chairman—But we are not to act the part of the dog in the manger.

The Chairman thought this intended embankment did not come in their way, and they should not give an opinion upon a question which they were not involved in. He deprecated the idea of the Harbour Board speculating in these slob lands, and suggested the postponement of the consideration of the question until a future meeting, as none of the committee were then present.

The suggestion was agreed to.

Mr. Long, C.E., stated that he had spoken to Mr. Gallway, C.I., on the subject of the police-barrack at the quays, and he told him that he could not treat with the Board in the matter unless they positively consented to find a barrack—a permanent structure—for the men, and he wished to know when they intended to build it. He (Mr. Long) had shown Mr. Gallway the ground on which they had intended to erect the barrack, and he had approved of it. (Mr. Long then submitted a plan of the proposed barrack).

Chairman—That is a fortress, not a barrack (laughter).

Some conversation then took place respecting the propriety of converting the store on Arthur's Quay, at present rented by Mr. Boyd as a manure depot, at £18 per annum, into a police-barrack.

It was agreed that the Mayor and Mr. Long should confer with Mr. Gallway on the subject.

The Mayor remarked that Arthur's Quay was not so much used as formerly, as the supply of turf was greatly diminished.

Alderman O'Callaghan in proposing his motion respecting the obstruction on the quays said he thought it would be wise to consider the resolutions that they had from time to time passed on this question. He therefore moved "That we reconsider the resolutions passed respecting obstructions on the quays and docks, and give such directions to remove all obstructions as may be deemed necessary."

Chairman—Do you mean our bye-laws?
Alderman O'Callaghan—No, our resolutions.

Chairman—It would greatly assist the committee of enquiry if you specified the resolutions they are to consider.

Alderman O'Callaghan said a great portion of the quays was occupied by the Limerick Steamship Company who enjoyed a complete monopoly—in fact they had the great portion of the quays to themselves. He had given his notice of motion in the interest of the citizens for the purpose of reconsidering this matter. The Steamship Company no longer existed, and he thought that private individuals should not be accommodated to such a large extent when the bye-laws were put in force against the other merchants.

Mr. M'Donnell seconded the resolution.

Mr. Bannatyne said the port had for many years derived a great benefit from the Steamship Company, and they should now be very slow in throwing an impediment in the way of trade. No man suffered as much as he did from the crowded state of the quays, but he would be the last to raise any personal objection (hear).

The following committee was then appointed to consider the resolutions:—The Mayor, Messrs. Spaight, Ryan, Tinsley, Quinlivan, Phillips, Thompson Russell, Bannatyne, and the proposer and seconder of the resolution.

The Secretary read the following letter from Mr. Murphy, law agent:—
"27th Nov., 1871.

"DEAR SIR,—I beg to report, for the information of the Limerick Harbour Commissioners, that I have obtained from Mr. O'Hagan, Q.C., the most decided opinion that they are entitled to resume the possession of the ground and premises known as the Sailors' Home. Counsel gives confidential directions for my guidance as to the steps to be taken to obtain possession, and I shall, without any delay that can be avoided, follow these instructions."

Mr. Ryan said he was glad to tell them that no soner 2s. with costs for attending the assize.

John Hourigan, who had been in custody, was charged by Sub-Constable Fogarty with committing a grievous assault on a man named John Connolly, who now lies in Barrington's hospital. A certificate that he was unable to attend in Court was read from Dr. Carey. The case was adjourned until Friday.

THIS DAY.

(Before Alderman Tinsley, Captain Gavin, J. C. Moore, R.M., and Maurice Lenihan).

Thomas Dwyer, apparently a servant boy, was brought up by Sub-Constable Coghlan, charged with being drunk last night, and resisting the police.

He was fined 5s. 6d. and costs.

An infirm old man named Patrick Nolan appeared on the table with a bundle of old linen under his arm, to answer to a charge of drunkenness brought against him by Sub-Constable Michael Cahalan. The policeman found him drunk last night in William-street, and before he could lay hands on him so helpless was he that he fell against a lamp-post and sustained a severe bruise on the forehead, and they thought for some time that he would not recover from the effects of the shock.

Mr. Lenihan remarked that he had been sentenced to a fortnight's imprisonment a short time ago for drunkenness.

The Bench, taking the punishment he had already received into consideration, inflicted a small fine.

Maria Coates was charged by Constable Curran with being drunk last night in Broad-street. The accused, in extenuation, pleaded that the constable had been mistaken as to the cause of her staggering, which proceeded, she said, not from the drink, but from infirmity. The Constable reminded her that he lifted her off the footpath where she had fallen a short time before he arrested her.

The Bench fined her 5s. and costs, or 7 days' imprisonment.

REVISION OF THE CITY JURY LIST.

After the business of the court had been disposed of, Mr. Bourke announced that the court was about to proceed with the revision of the City Jury List, and many parties claiming exemption or otherwise having objections should do so.

Captain Gavin and Mr. Hardiman complained that there had been no notification of the revision given at all, and if there had been, there would be a larger attendance.

Mr. M'Donnell, City Treasurer, was then sworn, and stated the list was complete to the best of his judgment, and none were on the list who were not entitled to be registered.

Messrs. John T. Devitt and Mortimer O'Brien claimed exemption on the ground of old age and infirmity, and having been sworn to that effect, were declared exempt.

The Court then adjourned.

CLARE INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

Ennis, Monday Evening.

ENNIS CHURCH.—The consecration of this beautiful new edifice will take place on Thursday next, when the ceremony will be performed by the Lord Bishop of Killaloe, assisted by his clergy. A large and respectable congregation is expected to attend on the occasion, and arrangements of the most satisfactory character have been made by the Rev. Philip Dwyer, Rector of the parish, in order to ensure perfect accommodation for all. Will be the conclusion of the ceremonial a dejeuner will be supplied.

THE DOG TAX.—Notwithstanding the existence of the dog-tax still much damage is being done by ferocious dogs that prowl about the country at night in search of prey. In Tulla, Clare Castle, &c., &c., several sheep from time to time have been devoured or mangled, and the tax has not furnished sufficient protection to the owners of flocks and herds. On last night two valuable sheep, the property of Mrs. Millward, of Clonroad, were set on by dogs and killed; and this day, after they had been discovered mutilated, a beagle was found proceeding towards the carcass. It is not yet ascertained if a malicious nature had been connected with the matter; but from the respectability of the lady in question, the owner of the animals, that is considered improbable.

ROBBERY.—A pensioner named Malone states that he had been struck, knocked down, and robbed of his watch about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning on the Caheracalla road, near this town. He does not know the robber.

104s to 120s., Normandy Hamburg, 100s. Morlaix, 94s. and 102s. Hamburg repacked 40s. 66s. and 94s. and Australian 40s. to 66s. Weather raw with N.E. winds.

The American correspondent of the Times telegraphs that a sensation has been caused by General Schenck's name appearing as a trustee of the Emma Mining Company in London. The Secretary of State has sent him a letter of inquiry, and if no satisfactory explanation be received his recall is contemplated. Mr. Reuter's agent, however, telegraphs that the rumour of General Schenck's recall is officially denied.

It is reported that Mr. Grove, Q.C., has been appointed to be Judge of the Common Pleas in room of Sir R. Collier.
