

Coffey, who keeps a public-house at the back of Clare-street.

Mr. Doyle appeared for complainant; and Mr. Howard for defendant.

This case had been adjourned from last sessions day in order to enable defendant to produce witnesses to prove that he was first assaulted.

The case was gone into, and the assault proved against him. The magistrates fined the defendant 7s. 6d. with 10s. costs, as they did not believe he got any occasion to commit the assault. They also denounced the assault as unmanly, and they expressed their determination to put down those wanton assaults upon women.

A sweep, named Reilly, was summoned by Mr. Ambrose Hall for causing his horse to take fright and run away on Thursday. Mr. Hall stated that he was driving into town on Thursday morning with his wife and three children in the vehicle.—When he was crossing the Wellesley-bridge the defendant, who was walking on the pathway, commenced making a strange noise, which caused his pony to take head and dash up the street at a furious pace. Mr. Hall screamed at him several times to stop making the noise, but instead of stopping, he continued more furiously than before and kept running after the vehicle. Were it not for the complete control he had over the animal some serious accident might have occurred. As it was, he could not have considered himself liable for the safety of Mrs. Hall and the children, because they were in imminent danger. It was on public grounds he brought this man to justice, in order to show him and others that such a thing could not be done with impunity.

Mr. Wm. Boyd, who witnessed the scene, described it as most dangerous. He thought it would have resulted in an accident. The horse was running at full speed at the time.

The Mayor said the Bench were very thankful to Mr. Hall, and also to Mr. Boyd, for bringing this matter before them. The defendant was bound over to keep the peace for twelve months, or in default of finding security to go to gaol for one month.

Denis Daly a baker, summoned James Coffey and his wife for committing assaults, the former with a tongs, inflicting a severe wound on the head, and the latter cutting him on the ear by a blow of a tumbler.

There was a cross summons by Mrs. Coffey against Daly for an assault.

Mr. Howard appeared for Daly, and Mr. Doyle for Mr. and Mrs. Coffey.

Daly stated that on Friday last when passing the public-house of a man named Denihan, Mrs. Coffey ran out and struck him a blow with a tumbler on the ear, by which a wound was inflicted. He passed on, and as he was walking by her husband's house in Clare-street, he ran out and struck him several blows with a tongs on the side of the head. Complainant never had quarrel with either party previous to this.

Coffey admitted that he struck him with the tongs, but said it was in consequence of his having ill-used his (Coffey's) wife, and calling her objectionable names. Daly also came before his door, and "wheeled" against him.

Mrs. Coffey denied either having been in a public-house at all that day, or having committed the assault. On the contrary he struck her and knocked her about in such a way as exasperated her husband to attack him.

The bench fined Coffey 10s with costs for the assault on Daly. They also fined Daly 7s 6d and costs for the assault on Mrs. Coffey.

There were no other cases of interest.

JEWES IN IRELAND.—A proof of the respect in which the Jews are held in Ireland, the only country, according to the Chief Rabbi, in which Jews have never been persecuted, was manifested quite recently in a touching manner. While a young lady, daughter of Mr. S Samuel, of Dublin, lay on what unfortunately proved her deathbed, prayers were offered up for her recovery not only in synagogues, but in chapels. After this proof of loving sympathy, it is not surprising to hear that 30 carriages, containing Christians as well as Jew followed her remains to the grave.—The Jewish Chronicle.
