cried out to the crowd, "come now Tipperary boys"—after which a volley of stones were thrown at the barrack windows and several passed through the drawing-room window where Sub-Inspector Kelly had been sitting. A woman who had been standing in the crowd was knocked down by a blow from a stone ; witness then arrested the prisoner, who struggled violently to escape from him ; the police did not interfere with the crowd at all on that night, witness being the only one who was standing near the crowd ; after the stones had been thrown the police came out and dispersed the crowd ; witness was only about three yards from the prisoner when he heard him shout.
 There were no other witnesses examined, and the jury after a short deliberation found the prisoner guilty.
 Sentence deferred.
 Patrick and Bridget Freeman were indicted for the larceny of a shirt from a hedge at Bellfield on the 7th February last.
 After some witnesses had been examined, the jury found that the prisoners were not guilty, and they were discharged after receiving a caution from his lordship as to their future conduct.
 Fanny Farmer, alias Rankins, was found guilty of stealing a tumbler from the Hibernian Refreshment Rooms, in William-street, on the 4th inst. She also admitted to being convicted of a larceny on a previous occasion, and to being in prison on 30 various occasions for minor offences.
 The prisoner was sentenced to four months' imprisonment.
 Michael Heaply and Thomas Kennedy were indicted on a charge of stealing five bottles from a man named Michael Ward, on the 27th of January last.
 After hearing the evidence, the jury acquitted the prisoners.
 The prisoners were further charged with having on the 1st of February grievously assaulted Michael Ward by stabbing him with a knife.
 The following jury were sworn to try this case Mr. Cleary, Counsel for the prisoners, having objected to the other jury :-
 Thomas Adams (foreman) ; James Brown Wm. Burn, Michael Collins, John Cronin, J. C. Discroll, Abraham Evans, Thomas Gaffney, Thos. G. Glover, Robert Hanna, John P. Kearney, John Kearney.
 Sir C. O'Loghlen, Bart., Q.C., M.P., Messrs. De Moleyns, Q.C., and O'Hea, Q.C., instructed by Mr. Roche, C.P., prosecuted, and Mr. A. Cleary, B.L., instructed by Messrs. Doyle and Duendon, solicitors, defended the prisoners.
 Michael Ward was examined by Sir Colman O'Loghlen, Q.C., and stated that on the 1st of Feb., last he was engaged in closing his master's shop in Rutland-street when the prisoners attempted to rush in to get drink, but, as it was 11 o'clock, witness refused to let them in, and he was stabbed with a pen-knife by Kennedy, and also nearly struck with a bottle by Heaply.
 In answer to Mr. Cleary witness stated that he could hardly say whether he was struck or stabbed.
 George M'Grath stated that he saw Ward bleeding from the arm, and he told him that he was stabbed by the prisoner, Kennedy.
 James Morrison stated that he saw Kennedy having the knife in his hand, and in attempting to force his way into the public house he struck Ward with it ; Ward then cried out, "I'm killed at last ;" saw Heaply throw a bottle at him, but it did not strike him.
 Cross-examined by Mr. Cleary—I had an ash plant in my hand on that occasion myself ; could not say how large the knife Kennedy used was.
 Night Watchman Hugh Abbott was examined, and stated that he went to M'Grath's house on the night in question, and found Kennedy and Heaply outside the door in a very excited state ; on witness attempting to interfere Kennedy struck him a blow on the side of the head, and brandished a knife at him, saying he "would destroy" him if he did not go away ; Heaply prevented Kennedy from striking witness.
 Cross-examined by Mr. O'Loghlen—I was not hurt by the blow I got.
 Constable Murphy was examined and stated that his attention was called to a row which was going on near M'Grath's shop on the 1st of February last,

Mary Donovan was charged with the larceny of some articles of clothes from the establishment of Mr. William Slattery, of Hospital.
 The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and evidence having been given she was acquitted.
 An old woman named Mary Cunningham was charged with stealing a sum of £4 from a pedlar named Hurley.
 After the evidence for the prosecution had been heard, the jury returned a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy.
 The Court sentenced her to one month's imprisonment.
 The Court rose at half-past six o'clock.
 Limerick and Ennis Railway (24½ mile open.)—
 —Traffic receipts for the week ending Friday, 1st March, 1872—Passengers, parcels, &c., £102 2s 4d ; goods and cattle, £104 19s 3d ; total, £207 1s 7d ; corresponding week last year, £237 7s 5d.
 It is stated that, although the decision of the Bucharest Chamber to adopt the Russian gauge in the construction of the railway between Skuiani and Jassy might be a matter for the serious consideration of Government, yet the Imperial Cabinet has not made any complaint on the subject.
 It is stated that d'Harcourt will leave Rome on the arrival of M. Fournier. The Univers reports a revolutionary outbreak at Madrid, followed by several executions.
 The French prisoners of war who have been detained in the Eastern provinces for offences committed during their captivity, and who have now been amnestied by the Emperor, arrived here yesterday, and were sent on to Erfurt, whence they will be forwarded home. The only men excluded from the benefits of the amnesty are those whose conduct has shown them to be unworthy of it.
