

by Fisher, the music by Mr. T. Ty—is one which will be gladly received in musical circles. The piece is in the key of B flat, and is not difficult of execution, even for a novice. The performance, however, is sure to have many of its intrinsic merits, and is in every respect an order. The melody is charming, and the song reflects much credit on the skill of Mr. Purcell, in this his latest effort.

Mr. Gubbins's pack of stag hounds had a day's sport yesterday in a third of their celebrated stag "Aster." The stag was shot at Rockfield, the residence of Mr. Gubbins, who hospitably entertained those present, after which the stag was sent in the direction of Fedamore, and the hounds well up. "Aster," after being shot by Major Smith, and finally by Mr. Gur, though without taking a mortal wound about the lake, but fell off again on the hounds coming, and was finally captured in a farm yard where the hounds had time to close on him. It is stated that the stag will be in the hands of an early date.

THE PACK.—This pack had one of the finest runs of the season on record was at Castleroberts, where gentlemen and ladies were assembled, and a quick draw in the coverts of the park not far from Sir David Roche's residence. Then followed a magnificent run to Wood, and on to Fanningstown, where a fox was drawn, which ran for the park at Dromore Wood. Here the hounds ran to view, but some escaped being "chopped." The fox was drawn off, and all left for home at seven miles, and some very stiff. The following were in at the park: Mr. Henry Croker, Mr. George Harris, Mr. Hannon, Mr. Cardon. Among those who were present were Mr. Reeves, Capt. Croker, Capt. Rees, and many others.
