TEST OF PROBATE—Dec. 13. dge Warren and a Special Jury ) Geary v. Dalton. of this case was resumed. It is a sh the will of a widow lady, named e, who resided in Fermoy, and who to the amount of £5,000, in Provincial nd shares, chiefly to the plaintiff, who had lived with her for many resulted in a compromise, on the terms ff obtaining £1,000 and the use for her use and furniture of the deceased—ween solicitor and client to be paid lants, the plaintiff consenting that the mned on the ground of want of compe part of the deceased; the defendants, withdrawing the pleas of undue influence hip expressed his concurrence in the hich the case was settled, and a verdict of the consent was returned by the elm, instructed by Messrs. Cronhelm bias, attended on the part of the Mer, and protested against the settlement ce had been made in it to the bequest contained in the will.

 hip said that Mr. Cronhelm's clients ey wished, propound the will. onough, Q. C., said that all the parties gement were members of the Wesleyan e had no doubt that they would settle eably.

SUNDAY CLOSING.
 t of the interview with the Chief Secreluesday is not, we think, altogether to the gentlemen favoured with it, ily to prove so to the friends of Sunday oughout the country. Indeed we are ay that it will be found rather disap-n otherwise. Sir Michael Hicks Beach that Government will not take the but he has said that the deputation int to do so, proposes that they should rith reference to the question generally have yet shown a disposition to go. meaning in these words which it should ficult to discover. Then, again, the Sunday closing seem resolutely deter-aving it applied to all Ireland without The proposed compromise, exempting the wife of C. P. B. Busha, of a son.
