FAIRS OF MUNSTER.

respondent says—Lord Chelmsford has modified his original plan as to the discipline of forces. The head, and indeed the discipline, has been changed before any improvement. The Daily Telegraph contains a report that Sir Garnet Wolseley will be in the field forthwith. He is to overcome the transport difficulties previously furnished by the Royal Engineers. It is expected that a peace should be concluded which is not likely to be disturbed. The Zulus must make a complete surrender if Garnett's party are well.
