

et. Mr Macdonogh pointed in charging the jury, had to the evidence of Mr Wyatt and Mr Wallace, of London, a denial of the paternity of the child. He said it was very unusual to correct the judge's decision and said that the testator did not enter in the registry office, but made the most solemn and emphatic declaration. The judge had decided on the law and left the law for the jury. The jury was on the point of insanity and would not venture on so high a point. The Master of the Rolls has laid down the duty of the judge to the jury, no matter what the facts are. Mr Macdonogh concluded the court adjourned. The appellants will be heard for the appellants.

ice orders, letters of credit and generally, should be addressed to the proprietor, WILLIAM HOPKINS, at his office before 12 o'clock on Wednesdays, and Saturdays. The offices are already opened, small notices should be prepaid. The communication will be attended to by signature of the proprietor for accuracy, but not for liability. We cannot undertake to receive communications.

WEEK CHRONICLE.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1879

renamed Dominico, Rameire, Johanna, Raptista, Angne, Cascime Abano. Jasseppo Perets, and Thaddens Harasto is this morning in custody of Congregated with assaulting and ring men named Carroll and on the night last. The following were seated on the bench:—The Rev. Mr. McCarthy, R.M; Mr John Maurice Lenihan. Alderman was seated on the side bench. From the dock appeared Dominico Romuro, Johanna Raplesta, Angane and were arrested in bed and were not seen taking any part in the fray whatsoever. Alderman was asked that these men were on the bench unanimously on the defendant's request. The evidence in the case was conclusive as to their guilt. The first unprovoked assault on the defendant was accordingly returned for the hearing of which the court adjourned. MAID OF CLARE.—This greyhound, by Allspice, out of Clare, the property of Mr Loftus, won the Brackagh Stakes at the last Portadown open meeting with great merit. The usual afternoon Promenade Concert took place this evening at the Athenaeum. It was a great success. We regret that pressure on our space has rendered it impossible for us to notice the entertainment in detail.

The next meeting of the Bible Class in connection with the Protestant Young Men's Association, will be held on Monday evening, January 20th, commencing at 8 o'clock. Subject: "The Acts of the Apostles," 2nd chap. commencing 4th verse. President, Rev. William Gorman. Non-members as well as members are earnestly invited to attend.

Mr Coroner Costelloe held an inquest yesterday on the body of the young man Moroney, who was found dead on the roadside at Ballyvarra on Thursday night. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

DEATH OF MAJOR VANDELEUR.

It is with extreme regret we have to announce the death, in the 80th year of his age, of Major Vandeleur, of Bellfield, near this city. This popular gentleman embraced the military profession at a very early age, having been gazetted to the 85th Regiment in 1815. Subsequently he obtained his brevet majority in the 21st Fusiliers. For a considerable number of years the deceased fulfilled the important duties of Treasurer to the Grand Jury of this County—the duties of which office will now, according to the recent act, be transferred to the present Secretary, Mr Poole Gabbett. Major Vandeleur also held the agencies of several important estates, among them that of the Duke of Buckingham. In public and in domestic life, few have been more justly esteemed or more deservedly appreciated for his many amiable endowments. The remains will be removed to the family vault in St. John's, on Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock.

PROTESTANT YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Last evening Mr William Stokes delivered an interesting Essay on the "Use of Intellectual Pursuits on the Human Mind," in the Debating Hall of the above institute.

The Rev. Mr. Dowd occupied the chair. The attendance of members was fair. Several ladies were present. The President took the chair at eight o'clock sharp.

Mr Stokes on rising, was warmly received. He said the subject he had chosen to speak upon that evening was the "Use of Intellectual Pursuits on the Human Mind." He did not think it would be very difficult to convince his hearers of the utility of intellectual pursuit. It was a matter upon which there could possibly be no controversy, and he would simply confine himself to the happy results effected by education on the character and mind of mankind, and also the lamentable condition of the mind characterised by its absence. He said the first idea that would occur to a rational an Israelite, and it was the old Testament.

The clerk, in answer to the question, did not read the Old Testament in the Jewish then produced and sworn.

King deposed that on talking to a friend at the defendant walked up to him and he talking to. Witness of his business, whereupon he raised his arm and struck him a blow on the face. Witness did not call for the police.

A brother Jew named named and gave similar testimony. Mr. M'Namara said that he worships the Jew provoking the defendant's brother, a little of age, and three other Jews at Cathedral place on Monday. The Jews passed and were arrested at the strange and mimicked the conversation and struck the defendant's brother down and kicked him. This and ran to his brother and hit him from injury. The Jew to continue the assault on his passion, did strike him on his brother.

The little boy was sworn to the facts of this statement.

A man named William saw the Jew and the defendant. The Jew had a hold on the witness. Witness asked him to let the defendant was for peace to force a fight.

King denied having killed Mr. Spillane—Did you witness—No. Mr. M'Donnell—I believe in the truth. Dr. O'Shaughnessy—The magistrates' case.

An unfortunate man sentenced to one month of hard labour, on a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred another unfortunate man for a like offence.

A soldier named Le months' imprisonment, for the larceny of a pair of boots from the Co., Patrick-street.

THE FUEL F

The grand full are organised in aid of the relief of Limerick was held at night. It was in every way successful and such as might have been expected from the energetic action of the