THE EDITOR OF THE WORLD.

tell Mr Parnell and Mr Dillon that hearing my country's wrongs, and my countrymen's meanness. I am trouble is brought on through want. Some of my countrymen go about whiskey, neglecting their business, poor and dependent. Then men full of balderdash and palaver, aunt, jump up and go a begging, elves—oh, no, not for themselves, it. They will make themselves money given for the poor if they watched. Let America send these to where they come from. It is good than all the money they wish them back, and make them feel in the cure will soon come to Ir-

AN IRISHWOMAN.

DELICIES.—A few days ago the police Geneva announced by an advertise- suille d'avis, the local gazette, that we and place they would offer for a quantity of pieces de conviction, ion of three years. The list, which in extenso, comprised a sufficient with which suicides had banged f knives, daggers, and pistols used blood-stained vestments, and other to furnish a chamber of horrors.— of all, the police proposed to sell at all the burglars' instruments, the skeleton keys, the crowbars, the l-drills, the dark lanterns, and life which they have captured and confis- the period in question. This extra- act of the authorities in apparently calling which it is one of their suppress was at first supposed to be a device for identifying all the antial housebreakers in the country, guilty, at least in intention, would g burglars' tools at public auction, reflection seems to have induced a lusion, and it is now conjectured e have no other idea than that of est penny. The thieves' stocks, in- e selling to-day are sure, sooner or into their hands again, and the e sales and re-sales of articles f which is nil will doubtless forma ion to the revenues of the State, at ably in arrear.
