County-Inspector Donovan, RIC, North Tipevary, has retired from active duty in conseuence of declining health, receiving a first-class ension. This active officer has seen considerable ervice, having entered the constabulary 50 years go. He was promoted to be first-class Sub-Inspecor 1859; second-class County-Inspector January, 870, and first-class August, 1872. Superannuated 9th July, 1881.

First-class Sub-Inspector Byrne has arrived at Nenagh to take charge of North Tipperary Contabulary district as Acting County Inspector. Mr Byrne had been recently attached to the Reserve Force at the Depot, and within the last lew months, with two more of his class, stood a successful competition for County Inspector. He and formerly served in the County Tipperary as Su b-Inspictor at Lorrha and Borrisoleigh.

On Tuesday about midnight, shots were heard in different directions along the Canal banks, As they were not heard and towards Corbally. As they were not heard in the one locality, but in different places, the belief is that they were fired either to give needless clarm, and indulge in a practical joke on the constabulary, or that they were fired for signal purposes to give timely warning to poschers of the appearance and approach of water bailiffs on the Shannon.

The King's County Chronicle says-We hope for the credit of a locality which already bears no too savoury a name, that the report which gained circulation in Parsonstown on this Wednesday is without foundation. It is to the effect that a field of corn near Cloghan, the property of a person who rendered himself obnoxious in certain quar-ters, was a few nights ago destroyed by a stone roller having been driven over it. So desperate would be the character of such an outrage that it is little wonder if the truth of the report were questioned, but the previous reputation of the district brings it within the pale of probability

On yesterday morning about seven o'clock, a special train, with pigs from Listowel market, was taken by the pointsman stationed between Rossbrian and Boherbuoy, for the Cork train due at 6.40, who turned on the Cork point to receive the train on the Cork line. Seeing the mistake committed, the driver of the Listowel train shut off steam, put on the break, the result being that the train passed into the goods store of the Cork line, the engine striking against the

DEATH OF MRS ANDERSON.

Much regret, the Clonmel Chronicle says, is felt at the death, at the early age of 23 years of Mrs T W Anderson, of Bellevue, near this city. Constance Agnes Jane Anderson was daughter of the late Very Rev Dean La Touche Kirwan, of Limerick. The coffin, placed on a hearse drawn by four horses, left Bellevue at half-past twelve yesterday (Tuesday) and was followed to the Abbey Churchyard by an immense gathering of the relatives and friends of the deceased, the carriages of the principal families of the counties of Hilkenny and Waterford being in attendance. The chief mourners were—Thomas W Anderson, Had, JP (husband of the deceased), A C Anderson, Esq. JW Kirwan, Esq. and the Misses Kirwan (brother and sisters of the deceased), Paul Anderson, Esq. Dr Anderson, C N Bolton, Esq. Sir R J Paul, Bart, D L, WJ Paul, Esq. R M R Paul, Esq, R F Carew, Esq, D L, R H Anderson, Rsq, Rev Canon Blacker, &c. The impressive funeral service was read by the Rev F C Canon Hamilton, of Limerick, and the Rev W Gilmer At the conclusion the Dead March was played in the organ, and the remains were borne to the vault by the tenantry (about 100 of whom were present), who evinced the deepest regret for the loss of one who was loved by all who enjoyed the pleasure of her acquaintance.

A CAUTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE Sir, Would you allow me, through your journal, to caution the charitably disposed against a woman frequenting the neighbourhood of the Park, who solicits help to bury her child. This story she told more than a week ago to some ladies in the Park (and got money from them), repeating the same to myself yesterday. However, as I am at times asked for money for a similar purpose, I was suspicious, and went to the gentleman who, she informed me, had just given her a shill ling, but who knew nothing of the case, and had not helped any one that day for such a purpose. I remain,

Yours truly,

VIGILANS.

COUNTY PETTY SESSIONS-To-DAY.

(Before Mr R L Brown and Mr Delmege.) John Quilty, pointsman on the Ennis Junction of the Waterford and Limerick Bailway, and his wife summoned James and Mary Cotter for grossly assaulting them on Saturday evening; and the Cotters had a similar charge against Quilty and his wife. Both the men are in the employment of the Waterford and Limerick Railway Company. Mr Dundon appeared for the complainants in the first case, and Mr R M Namara for the defendants.

The case made out for the Quiltys was, that on the evening in question Cotter, his wife and
